SWEDISH CAPTAIN JAILED IN TURK SUB TRAGEDY

ISTANBUL (CP)—Turkish officials today jailed Capt. Oscar Lornstzon, skipper of a Swedish freighter which collided Saturday with the Turkish submarine Dumlupinar and sent it to the bottom of the Dardanelles, drowning 81 crew members.

Lornstzon denied that his 4,000-ton Naboland was to blame for the collision. He said the submarine had violated international navigational rules and he planned a court appeal for his release.

The Dumlupinar broke in two after colliding with the Naboland and sank in 228 feet of water.

Teachers to Discuss Grading Report Cards

VANCOUVER (BUP)—A resolution asking that children be given "A," "B," and "C" grades on their report cards is one of 83 expected to be dealt with at the 34th annual convention of the B.C. Teachers' Federation which opened today in Vancouver.

The resolution is sponsored by the South Okanagan Branch. The subject of grading report cards is one of the thorniest to crop up in recent wide public discussion of the education curriculum. The practice of rating pupils against a class norm or in relation to their personal capabilities has been the target of critics who believe that competitive examinations and standings should be restored.

Education Minister Mrs. Tilly Ralston will be one of the featured speakers, and is expected to discuss a report on possible federal aid in education costs. Election of officers will be held Wednesday.

Two resolutions calling for minor changes in curriculum course content will be presented to the convention by the Victoria delegation.

Laing Refuses Comment on Leadership Rumor

VANCOUVER (CP)—Arthur Laing is the silent man of the Liberal Party.

The member of parliament for Vancouver South, frequently mentioned as a candidate for the B.C. Liberal leadership, returned from Ottawa on Saturday.

But he declined to say whether he would stand for the post at the convention here April 8.

A leader will be chosen to succeed former premier Byron Johnson.

Mau Mau Band Trapped; Police Wipe Out 22

Government House Servants Arrested

NAIROBI, Kenya—Kenya police have caught a band of Mau Mau terrorists in the act of attempting to massacre a village of Africans.

The police shot 22 of the terrorists and chased the rest into the jungle.

Sunday, six members of the staff of Government House were arrested as members of the Mau Mau terrorist organization. They were reported.

They were arrested after police screened the staff at the home of Governor Sir Evelyn Baring.

NEW PLAN

Shortly after, Baring announced a new plan designed to let government forces take the initiative in the fight against Mau Mau.

The plan calls for more well-equipped bases from which anti-Mau Mau operations can be conducted, and increased African participation and co-operation in the fight.

Coles Bay is between Brentwood Bay and Patricia Bay. RCAF officials of the Pat Bay flying boat school said the amphibious plane ran out of gas on its final approach to the airport runways at about 4.45 p.m.

Emerging with nothing more serious than a ducking in Coles Bay were:

W. H. Cook, pilot-owner, of 9634 SE Mercer Island, Seattle; R. L. Ronzie, R. H. Nelson and A. W. Warren, also of Seattle.

The prewar light Grumman Widgeon craft this morning was partly submerged, on its back, lying on a shelf of rock about 100 yards from the shore in the cove of Saanich Inlet.

2 Dead, 13 Hurt In Vancouver Car Crashes

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two persons were killed, seven were seriously injured and six others suffered less serious injuries in three Greater Vancouver weekend traffic accidents.

Mrs. Kay Ricci, 31, was killed in a two-car crash which injured six other members of her family.

William Watson, 37, was instantly killed when he was hit by a car while crossing an East End street.

In the Ricci crash nine of the 10 occupants of the two cars were hurled into the road. Six ambulances were called to take the injured to hospital.

The injured included Mrs. Ricci's husband, Michael, 32, and her four-year-old daughter, Constance.

The plane hit the sea and flipped over on its back about 200 yards from shore in deep water, he said.

It did not sink. The four men managed to climb onto an East End street.

An unidentified Indian resident of the boat pulled to the scene in a rowboat and took the four men aboard.

A rope was attached to the aircraft and it was towed to the shelf of rock 100 yards closer to shore and anchored there, with logs to support and protect it.

An RCAF crash boat made a fast trip to the scene and took the men and what luggage could be salvaged from the plane to the Pat Bay station.

Flt. Sgt. W. J. Carlsen was in command of the crash boat. He was assisted in the operation by Cpl. J. McFarlane.

A barge from Victoria with hoisting equipment was en route to Coles Bay this morning to salvage the plane.

The quartet had just concluded a fishing trip to the Nahmint country, in the Alberni area.

'Unrecognized' Secured to Run As Independent

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP)—E. J. Brewster told a Social Credit League meeting here he will run as an "independent Social Credit candidate" in the June 9 election.

He was the unsuccessful Social Credit candidate in Nanaimo in the 1952 general election.

Brewster announced his candidacy after chairman K. F. Hodgson said he was "not recognized."

Mossadegh Says Shah's Courtiers Plan to Kill Him

TEHRAN, Iran (BUP)—Premier Mohammed Mossadegh of Iran in a nation-wide broadcast has accused Shah Reza Pahlavi's court of plotting to kill him and demanded the Shah give up his ruling powers.

The premier demanded the lower house of Parliament pass a resolution ordering the Shah to "reign constitutionally," but apparently without power.

Mossadegh said the Shah's court was involved in a "plot" against his life last month when the Shah announced he was leaving Iran and then changed his mind.

MacKenzie Mentioned As NFB Commissioner

OTTAWA (CP)—Dr. Norman MacKenzie, president of the University of B.C., is among those prominently mentioned as commissioner of the National Film Board, to succeed W. Arthur Irwin, new Canadian high commissioner to Australia.

Irwin, former editor of Maclean's Magazine, leaves for his diplomatic post this summer.

The NFB job pays about $75,000 a year.

Two prominent Canadian writers have also been mentioned. They are Ralph Allen, who succeeded Irwin as editor of Maclean's, and Robert Elson, well-known newspaper man formerly with the Vancouver Province.

Prisoner-Swap Talks Under Way

Top UN and Communist truce teams meet in Panmunjom, Korea, to make arrangements for opening talks on exchange of sick and wounded prisoners of war. This meeting followed fast on the heels of a Chinese offer to begin settlement of Korean matters at a truce table. Second man from left is Col. Willard E. Carlock of Galveston, Tex., UN senior liaison officer.

Moscow Names Man Who Faked Murders

Pravda Says Obscure Deputy Minister To Blame in Case Against 15 Doctors

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda today put the finger on an obscure deputy minister of state security as the culprit who faked the murder case against 15 Russian doctors. It also blasted the security ministry's former chief for being taken in by the false evidence.

The Communist party organ said the culprit, identified as one Ryumin, was arrested. It charged the former minister of state security, S. Ignatiev, with "political blindness and gullibility" and denounced a commission of medical experts in the case for making "incorrect conclusions."

The prominent doctors, accused last January of plotting against Soviet leaders and having caused the deaths of two, were ordered freed Saturday in a surprise move by the new internal affairs ministry headed by Lavrenty Beria, first deputy premier in the Soviet government.

This was the first word the West had that Ignatiev had been security minister early this year. He was not further identified by Pravda, but it is possible that he is Semyon Ignatiev, recently elevated to one of the highest positions in the Soviet hierarchy—a seat on the five-man secretariat of the Communist party's powerful central committee. If such a ranking leader is under attack, a purge already may be stirring within the Kremlin.

FELL DOWN ON JOB

The Pravda article declared that "leaders of the former ministry of state security fell down on the job."

When the doctors were arrested, it was charged they prescribed faulty medical treatment and caused the deaths of Andrei Zhdanov, a leading politician, and Alexander Shcherbakov, who died in 1945 at 44.

It was announced Saturday that the doctors had been falsely accused and that persons responsible for "incorrect conduct of the investigations" had been brought to justice.

CRUDE VIOLATIONS

Pravda said "Ryumin and certain other workers of the ministry of state security, for their criminal purposes, went so far as to commit crude violations of Soviet legality up to direct falsification of materials of accusation."

They also slandered without cause a prominent Jewish actor, the late Lev Mikhoels, Pravda said. Mikhoels, a leader of Russian Jewry until his death in 1948, had been accused of being an agent between the doctors and international Jewish groups with which the original charges said the doctors plotted.

The paper said "a commission of medical experts 'let itself be influenced' by the false evidence and 'supported' slanderous accusations against a number of outstanding leaders of medicine."

COLD, COLORLESS, SHREWD

He is somberly dressed, short, stout and pale. His beady eyes peer owlishly through the rimmed glasses, highlighting an expressionless face. But behind that cold, reserved manner is a shrewd mind, and to visitors he's charming and courteous.

Other than party members and a few university professors, he has few intimates. South Africans generally know much about the politician, little about the man.

He's deeply religious and dignified. To answer claims that he has never made a joke, the State Information Office had to go back 20 years to dredge up a vaguely humorous incident. What humor he does show is dry. But his deep, vibrant voice makes him one of the few orators in Parliament.

WIFE MUCH YOUNGER

Maria Malan, his wife, is 29 years younger. He married her in 1937, seven years after the death of his first wife. Besides two sons by his first marriage, they have an adopted orphaned German girl.

Born on a farm near the remote village of Riebeck West, Malan showed none of the Afrikaans boy's usual love for the land. He turned instead to the study, studying first at Stellenbosch, later in Holland.

By 1915, he was a fervent advocate of unity and the Afrikaans language. It won him appointment as chief editor of the Nationalist party newspaper. A few months later, he was presiding at a party congress and has maintained the leadership since.

South Africa's Malan Faces
Big Test at Polls April 15

By W. ALLISON FORRESTER

CAPETOWN, South Africa (NEA)—Dr. Daniel François Malan is a poker-faced Afrikaans who likes to take off his shoes and socks and wade in the sea and refuses to go to race meetings.

But race headaches of another sort—white vs. black—are Malan's battle-cry in his fight for re-election of his South African Nationalist Party on April 15.

If his party wins, he will consider it a clear-cut mandate to declare the "sovereignty of parliament" and step up his war for complete white supremacy.

The rarely-smiling Prime Minister, nearing 79, has not backed down on the racial issue that has piled up national tension since last spring, when the Nationalists made separate voting lists for the colored. When the courts called the law unconstitutional, Malan rejected the decision. He created a High Court of Parliament, making parliament superior to the courts.

Adenauer Arrives

NEW YORK (CP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany arrived today for a round of conferences with President Eisenhower and other U.S. government officials, to be followed by a visit to Ottawa.

Adenauer will visit Washington and a number of other cities before making a one-day visit to Ottawa for talks with Canadian government officials April 18.

U.K. Easter Bleak

LONDON (AP)—Snow and rain marred Easter Sunday in Britain, but transport officials said there was practically no body at home anyway—50,000 persons had crossed the channel to spend the day in France.

'Distinct Progress' Reported

By LEROY HANSEN

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP)—The United Nations told Communist negotiators today they were ready to return 500 ailing Red soldiers daily within a week after agreement was reached on a swap of sick and wounded prisoners.

The U.N. offer was in a nine-point program put before the Reds at today's 48-minute opening talk on the exchange of ailing prisoners, when Allied leaders praised the Reds as being "very objective."

The U.N. negotiators said the first Allied-Communist talks in six months made "distinct progress." Both sides agreed to meet again at 11 a.m. Tuesday (6 p.m. EST Monday).

The talks may lead to resumption of armistice negotiations. Chief U.N. negotiator Rear Admiral John Daniel said he told the Reds today:

"We are prepared to repatriate directly through Panmunjom all sick and wounded captured personnel specified in article 109 of the Geneva convention. We have not divided them into categories. We have total figures by nationalities which we are prepared to exchange."

NINE POINTS

The nine points submitted by the Allies are:

1. Panmunjom would be the site of the exchange.

2. Exchange would begin seven days after agreement is signed.

3. The U.N. would repatriate 500 prisoners per day. The Communist figure was left blank.

4. Twenty-five prisoners would be brought to the exchange point at one time with each group accompanied by a roster with names, rank and nationality.

5. Each side would provide immunity from attack to 10 vehicle convoys bringing the POWs to Kaesong and Munsan with proper identification.

6. The description, time and other details of the convoys would be exchanged 24 hours before movement.

7. There would be free access to the neutral site with each delegation not to exceed 300 persons at one time including the "captured personnel" under control of each side.

8. Liaison officers will meet to arrange administrative details.

9. Provision for terminating date of the agreement.

The Communists raised the possibility of sending some categories of sick and wounded prisoners to neutral countries for the duration of hostilities.

MAY BROADEN TERMS

The Red's move indicated they may intend in this way to broaden the terms of the exchange of seriously sick and wounded so as to include thousands of prisoners who do not meet the rigid requirements of "seriously sick and wounded" under the Geneva Convention.

Chief Communist negotiator Maj.-Gen. Lee Sang Cho announced in the meeting that the Reds are ready to repatriate all sick and wounded prisoners of war "listed to be directly repatriated or accommodated in a neutral country."

He cited articles 109 and 110 of the Geneva Convention. Article 109 calls for immediate repatriation, on a voluntary basis of seriously sick and wounded prisoners.

Article 110, which the Communists mentioned today for the first time, calls for the release to the custody of neutral nations those prisoners whose physical or mental condition would be improved by release from a prisoner of war camp.

PUNCTUATION?

.45 Backs Demand For Service

VANCOUVER (CP)—Maybe he was just trying to keep the old Wild West traditions alive: A thirsty customer, impatient for his two beers, fired two shots into the ceiling of a hotel beer parlor here Saturday.

Police later arrested James H. Doire, and charged him with illegal possession of firearms. They said he was carrying a .45 revolver with three live and two spent shells and a small loaded automatic in his trouser leg.

ON THE TIMES

By ART STOTT

Spring is coming slowly to the shores of Cigarmakers' Bay. The brush willow still stands in thickets of red-brown stalks. The alders are silver-grey frames not yet clothed. The arbutus rises up loftily, its yellow-green underbark showing unweathered where the red layers of last year's outer covering have peeled away.

In the fields the bracken is dead brown, broken by the winter snows, crushed and sinking into the earth it will renew. Few bright starred trilliums have greeted Easter under the trees, and what will be wood violets beside the swamp are only small clusters of leaves guarding the secret of the shy blooms to come.

But there is promise. On the branch ends of trees the bud shards are parting. The wrinkled skin of new leaf, still furled, is tender to the air. The robins, which have poured out the liquid notes of their half-melancholy rain song, are beginning a brighter chorus to the season.

Under the spongy forest duff beside the paths some life is stirring, breathing with a silent respiration and the soft sound of moisture filtering to lower levels.

There is an air of expectancy under the trees and by the lakeshore. Beneath the dead bracken, new shoots are forming, ready to spring into growth under a warming sun and thrust up in slender, tough stalks to make arrows and spears for children at play.

Expectant Waiting

On the hillside last week's fall of late snow has melted and runs, in tiny rivulets, to lower ground. Sunlight catches the breeze-wrinkled lake and sets small arrow points of brilliance dancing. Not yet are the trout splashing in the evening rise, but some few of them are dimpling the surface, questing, waiting for warmth to hatch new generations of insects.

The pulse of nature is throbbing, not at full tempo, not in a surging rhythm that pushes out the full panoply of spring, but surely, almost perceptibly. There is a feeling about the season as there is about a young runner limbering up. There is a testing of stride, a stretching of muscles, a tuning up of sinews for the race ahead.

And in the growing children opening camp there is the same anticipation. You noticed it as they strayed from the Easter egg hunt, which is a tradition. You saw them, questing afield, half an eye looking for treasure hidden by adults, their main vision concentrated on the little secret haunts they'll frequent in the late spring and summer woods.

Haunts Revisited

You saw them on the rise they call Mossy Rock inspecting the covering for the sign of pink flowers which will veil it as the days grow warmer. You found them on the path to a small pool named John Easter after the boy who, as a small child, discovered it at this same season a few years earlier.

You watched them as they checked a small growth of willows in which they will build another fort, roofed in fresh bracken, when it grows, to make their own green retreat.

Spring is coming slowly to the camp at Cigarmakers' Bay, but its coming is certain—certain as the stars which glow bright in the cold night sky and as the song of frogs which are swelling their anthem to a year that is young and rich with growing life.

CELEBRATING END OF LENT

Ontario Bush Worker Shot By Police in Wild Melee

BEARDMORE, Ont. (CP)—A 24-year-old bush worker, celebrating the end of Lent, was shot four times Saturday night while trying to overpower police taking him to jail. One policeman was wounded in the fracas.

Aquila Jerry Cormier and two friends, Robert Mendard and Roland Guennet, were fighting in the centre of this small town of gold miners and lumbermen 128 miles northeast of Port Arthur.

Provincial Police were called and charged the trio with creating a disturbance. After the fracas Cormier also was charged with attempted escape.

While on the way to the station police said Guennet abused them and while being led into the station along with Menard again objected loudly.

Constable M. P. Chapman, following behind Cormier, gave Guennet a push. Then, police said, Cormier got a strange hold on Chapman, while the other two threw constable J. Webb to the ground.

Inspector P. T. Hake of the Port Arthur detachment said the men "put their heavy lumbering boots into Webb," while Cormier tried to reach for Chapman's gun.

"Chapman was on the ground trying to free himself, and at first fired a warning shot, but when Cormier refused to let go, he fired three more shots. Two entered Cormier's left leg just above the knee, and in the tussle Chapman fired one shot into his own left leg.

"Cormier still refused to let Chapman out of the stranglehold and Chapman was fired a final shot which entered Cormier's right arm pit and went through his shoulder blades.

Year's Biggest Atomic Blast Rips Desert

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The fourth—and biggest—of this year's atomic blasts went off in the desert northwest of here today. Seven minutes later its sound wave hit Las Vegas with a resounding crack.

It was one of the sharpest jolts since the early days of nuclear experimenting, when shock waves still had enough force, after racing 75 miles, to break a few windows here.

Today's explosion was designed to test, among other things, radiation effects on mice and monkeys.

The familiar white cloud boiled up quickly and was visible here within three minutes despite a ground haze. Its height led seasoned observers to believe that today's device—as the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission calls the weapons it tests—was dropped from a plane.

Previous blasts this season have been set off from 300-foot towers, and have been barely felt this far away.

Today's, first of the spring series in daylight, went off at 7:30 a.m. PST (9:30 a.m. CST).

HEARING-AID OF THE WEEK

By R. S. H. TYE

Easter Greetings to Our Customers

We wish you a very Happy Easter and hope that the good hearing you once more enjoy will mean that this Easter Season is one of the happiest you can remember.

It is over a month now since the first Radioear All-Transistor hearing-aid arrived at our office. It is really amazing what wonderfully clear, noiseless hearing the instrument provides, and that one small self-contained "A" battery (it has no "B") on the average series with a life of 2,000 hours of hearing for 70 cents.

You are invited to test it without obligation at 325 Yarrow Building (formerly known as Pemberton Building), 625 Port Street, Victoria, B.C. If you are unable to call at the office, Mr. Tye will be pleased to call on you by appointment.

KREMLIN FABULOUS, FASCINATING

Moscow's Gates Opened Wide For Touring U.S. Editors

The following dispatch was written for United Press by John Hiddle, Editor of the Huntington Post, Daily News and one of a group of American newspaper and radio executives now visiting Russia.

MOSCOW (UP)—We passed through the ancient halls of the Kremlin yesterday and spent several hours visiting the fabulous collection of palaces, churches and museums inside.

We achieved two more "firsts" today by attending a reception at Spassko House given by U.S. Charge d'Affairs Jacob Beam and Mrs. Beam, marked by the first attendance of Soviet officials in some years.

The other "first" came when we watched Tchaikovsky's Swan Lake ballet performed at the Bolshoi Theatre and later were received backstage by male and female stars.

Backstage were dance headliners Maja Pliszekaja and Ulrich Kondratov and the entire cast.

The great prima ballerina Ulanova whom we saw the other night performing in the same theatre, came backstage to welcome us at a reception.

At the Khushchev bakery we donned white gowns and visited all five floors of the plant that is turning out 250 tons of white bread daily for sale at the same number of stores.

OPERATED BY WOMEN—Again we discovered a factory run almost entirely by women.

The plant operates seven days a week with a three-day shutdown every three months for maintenance. Workers are paid a minimum of 700 rubles a month while specialists get 900 or higher.

A loaf of bread cost one ruble, 95 kopeks for one kilogram. A kindergarten is maintained nearby for children of the workers.

The new housing development was started in 1948 and now boasts quite a few new apartment buildings with 35 flats of four and five rooms.

It is located on a new street and new schools and service stores are planned. The Sovetskaya Hotel has an impressive lobby with marble pillars, marble staircase and walls and accommodates some 160 guests.

Fancy suites of three and four rooms cost 75 to 90 rubles daily. It is Moscow's finest.

INSIDE KREMLIN—With more than usual interest we entered the Kremlin at the visitor's portal of old borovitskaya. It is 62 feet high and was erected by Ivan III. By this gate Napoleon entered the Kremlin in 1812.

The massive wall is roughly a huge triangle a mile and a quarter in circumference with 19 towers.

It dominates Moscow in every way. Inside is an area of 26 hectares (64.246 acres). The wall was built near the end of the 15th century. Inside are the imperial palace of the czars, cathedrals and the huge hall of the supreme council of the U.S.S.R. as well as offices of high Soviet officials.

The cathedral of the Assumption is the most interesting, for in it the czars were crowned for hundreds of years. It is almost in the exact centre of the Kremlin.

The walls of the church are richly decorated with medieval art and a massive dome 138 feet high is in the centre with four smaller domes around it.

We also saw the Annunciation Cathedral in which the czars were christened and married. It was founded in 1397 and it has a floor made up of semi-precious stones from the Ural mountains.

Opposite this church is the huge bell tower of John the Great, completed by Boris Godunov in 1600, which rises five stories above its two churches.

The imperial palaces are filled with displays of the Romanoff crown jewels, ancient thrones, armor, royal carriages, sleds and priceless gifts of royalty including Napoleon's dinner service given to Alexander I.

Gorgeous trinkets given Nicholas II and his family also are shown including an elaborate Easter egg with porcelain miniatures of his children and the czarina's gift to him of a miniature golden model of a trans-Siberian railroad train.

The most breath-taking room in the house is the large St. George Hall, 200 feet long, 70 feet wide and 65 feet high.

Marble plaques on the wall list Russian Regiments distinguished on the battlefield.

We were guests of honor at a reception in Spassko House of the U.S. embassy attended by diplomats, foreign correspondents, embassy personnel and for the first time in years, Soviet officials.

Our busy-day was climaxed by our visit to the Bolshoi Theatre to see the ballet Swan Lake performed.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS

VICTORIA'S SUNSHINE RECORD TO DATE, 1953—288.5 HOURS

SYNOPSIS: An extensive ridge of high pressure off-shore is preventing the entry of major Pacific disturbances into B.C. At the same time it is drawing in cooler and fairly moist air from the north.

This is sufficient to reduce generally sunny conditions with variable amounts of cloudiness and give even an odd daytime shower in a few localities.

A slight increase in cloudy, showery conditions should be noticeable Tuesday, particularly in the northwestern half of the province.

DOMINION PUBLIC WEATHER SERVICE 9 A.M. FORECASTS

VICTORIA: Sunny with cloudy periods today and Tuesday. Not much change in temperature. Winds light. Low-high Tuesday at Victoria 38 and 53.

VANCOUVER, LOWER FRASER VALLEY AND GEORGIA STRAIT: Cloudy, clearing this afternoon. Cloudy with sunny periods Tuesday. Not much change in temperature. Winds northwesterly 20 in Georgia Strait until this evening, otherwise winds light. Low-high Tuesday at Vancouver 38 and 53.

WEST COAST: A few clouds today, cloudy with sunny periods Tuesday. Not much change in temperature. Winds light. Low-high Tuesday at Estevan Point 37 and 48.

Garson Flays CCF Charge Budget Favors 'Rich Man'

WINNIPEG (CP)—Justice Minister Garson said Wednesday night there was an easy answer to CCF charges of "a rich man's budget."

He was addressing the Winnipeg North Liberals' nominating convention, which unanimously named Frank Chester, member of the Manitoba legislature for Winnipeg North, as its candidate in the next federal election.

"Today in Canada, people in the low income brackets pay far less income taxes than those in the United Kingdom, Australia and New Zealand where socialist policies have been in force until recently," Mr. Garson said.

The best endorsement of the government's policies, he said, was the investment in Canada of $16,000,000 from all sources in the last four years.

Bomb Kills Five Indians

Inquest Opens Into Alta. Murder On Blackfoot Reserve; Suspect Held

BASSANO, Alta. (BUP)—Coroner L. H. Mason opened an inquest today into the deaths of five Indians who perished Saturday night when a crude "Molotov cocktail" was thrown into a house on the Blackfoot Reserve near Gleichen, 20 miles east of here.

Alexander Standing, at the Door, whose wife and young son were among the three women and two children killed, was being held by the RCMP as the suspected bomb-thrower. He was expected to be arraigned on a murder charge following the inquest.

The Mounties said Standing at the Door hurled a gasoline-filled bottle through a window of his home after a violent quarrel with his wife. The home-made bomb smashed against a hot stove in the kitchen and exploded with a tremendous blast which rocked the house.

The women and children inside the house were sprayed with flaming oil. Six-year-old Gary Bullbar was believed to have died instantly. The others stumbled from the burning house, screaming in pain.

Ambulances were called by the Blackfoot chief but the victims died soon after being admitted to hospital here. They were: Mrs. Standing at the Door, 26; her six-year-old son, Cliff; ford; Mrs. Joe Little Chief, 50, and Mrs. B. Ironhead, 65.

An RCMP patrol raced to the reserve and arrested the suspect soon after the call for ambulances had been placed. The Mounties said they did not know the nature of the quarrel Standing at the Door had with his wife.

Austrian President Swears In Cabinet

VIENNA (AP)—President Theodor Koerner swore in a new Austrian cabinet today headed by industrialist Julius Raab—a bitter anti-Communist—as chancellor. The action ended the occupied country's five-week government crisis.

It was Austria's second government since 1945 and, like its predecessor, a coalition of the Conservative People's Party and the left-of-centre Socialists. Raab is a Conservative.

Four-Power Air Talks Tuesday

Britain, U.S., France Agree To Meet Russians in Berlin

BERLIN (Reuters) — A four-power air safety conference will be held at Soviet headquarters here Tuesday.

Britain, the United States and France have agreed to the Soviet proposal setting the date for the talks—first four-way conference in divided Berlin since July, 1951.

The meeting is regarded here as an important part of the current Soviet campaign to ease East-West tension.

The American and French authorities three days ago accepted a Soviet invitation to send delegates to an Anglo-Soviet air safety conference—also called at Soviet initiative—which already met twice last week.

The two Anglo-Soviet meetings last week were cloaked in strictest secrecy. Neither British nor Soviet authorities gave the names and ranks of their delegates or issued any announcement of the progress made.

The original proposal to Britain came after Soviet fighters had shot down an unarmed RAF bomber March 12 near one of the air corridors across East Germany linking West Berlin with West Germany. The seven members of the crew were killed.

Atom Research Monopoly Seen Nearing End

OTTAWA (BUP)—The tight monopoly enjoyed by Canada, the United States and Great Britain in advanced atomic energy research soon will be a thing of the past, a government publication said today.

The Department of Trade and Commerce publication "Foreign Trade" reported that 10 European countries and Australia had made plans or were making plans for major research programs in the atomic energy field.

Canada, the U.S. and Britain have led the western world in atomic energy research because they are the only countries which have operated atomic energy reactors for any length of time. Norway and The Netherlands now operate a small atomic pile, but it did not begin functioning until late in 1951.

However, reactors necessary for advanced research are being built or planned now by Australia, Switzerland, Belgium, Italy, France, Sweden, Denmark, Germany and Yugoslavia.

FOOD STALL BRIGHTENS DAY FOR CHILDREN

Easter treats for the children accompanied issues of special holiday groceries to 90 families at the Surplus Food Stall Saturday.

The Easter sweets were donated and packed in colorful individual packets and baskets by the St. Mary's Women's Guild.

Today, Mrs. Barbara Green, who operates the free food centre in the city market building, spoke her thanks to the guild ladies and all others who assisted.

U.S. Demand May Test Red Peace Overtures

BOON (AP)—United States authorities here are reported contemplating testing the Russians' new conciliatory attitude by asking them once again to free Dr. Walter Linse, Berlin anti-Communist leader who was kidnapped last July and dragged into the Soviet zone.

At least seven times the Americans have asked Gen. Vassily I. Chukov, Soviet commander in East Germany, or his subordinates for Linse's release—but always in vain. The Russians have either ignored the requests or claimed ignorance of Linse's whereabouts—and this despite the presentation of documented evidence that he was slugged and hustled out of West Berlin by Communist-paid thugs.

When the former U.S. high commissioner, Walter J. Donnelly, sent a Christmas package for Linse last December, it was returned marked "misaddressed." Donnelly then pledged that U.S. authorities would never stop pressing for his release. Linse, an outspoken foe of communism who was given to documenting his charges with hard proof, was a thorn in the Russian side.

BAD EASTER EGGS MAKE 26 TOTS ILL

RICHMOND, Wash. (BUP)—Twenty-six persons, most of them tots under six years of age, are recovering today from food poisoning contacted from eating infected eggs after an Easter egg hunt here.

About 300 children took part in the Kiwanis Club hunt. The sickness, accompanied by severe vomiting, struck about an hour later. Except for a few isolated cases, most of the children and a few adults were allowed to leave hospital following treatment.

The authorities are attempting to determine what caused the infection. They believed the dye used to paint the eggs was safe.

Icebreaker Gets Through to Port Of St. John's

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—The icebreaker Saurel punched through ice surrounding Newfoundland's eastern seaboard to this port Sunday, the first vessel to break the icy grip in 18 days.

After repairs to her radar, the vessel will crack open a channel through nearly eight miles of ice to allow eight vessels, including the coastal tanker Imperial Halifax, to leave port.

Then she will attempt to clear a path for the trawlers and fishing vessels marooned by the ice floes. The Saurel broke ice away from the trawler Blue Haze en route here. The trawler ran out of food more than a week ago and the RCAF was called in to drop supplies.

Brisk Winds Tip Easter Bonnets As Crowds Converge On Churches

Brisk winds played hob with the wide-brimmed hats of Easter Sunday's churchgoing crowds and rain squalls sent gardeners scurrying for shelter. But for the most part the weekend weather encouraged holiday-makers.

Anyone lucky enough to get the Friday-through-Monday holiday could get a sunburn today.

Sunday sunrise services were attended by an estimated 1,000 persons: the United Churches' young people at Mount Douglas; the Gideons' and Canadian Girls in Training services at Beacon Hill Park.

All Greater Victoria churches were crowded.

Young people of United Churches held the first service of the day atop Mount Douglas at 6 a.m.

Rev. W. Buckingham, of St. Paul's United Church, Sidney, delivered the Easter message. Organ music was provided by Don Redman, and Anne Firth was soloist.

Following the service, 50 participants went to St. Aidan's Church Hall for breakfast.

NON-DENOMINATIONAL

More than 500 people attended the 10th annual Gideons' sunrise service held at 7:45 on the rocks at Beacon Hill Park, close to South Park School.

The non-denominational service was arranged by the Victoria Camp of Gideons and George Abbott, a past president of Gideons' International in Canada, was principal speaker. Music was provided by the Salvation Army band, under direction of Bandmaster Max Chalk. The beautiful hymn, "The Old, Rugged Cross," was played as a cornet solo by assistant bandmaster Bert Mills.

Miss Lorraine Bowen and Victor Morley were soloists at the service.

GOVERNMENT HOLIDAY

Today was a holiday for most government workers. Federal, provincial and municipal offices were closed. Banks were closed too, although in order to have today off, employees worked Saturday morning.

Transportation people worked hardest during the holiday getting people to and from the city. Sunday travel was particularly heavy.

MOON-MAD SEX SLAYER

May Have Killed Norwegian Girl

LONDON (Reuters)—Police announced one of the six victims of London's "moon-mad" sex slayer is believed to be a blonde Norwegian girl who frequented the murder house in 1946.

Scotland Yard "bone specialists" have been carefully studying two skeletons dug up from the backyard of the shabby three-story house in West London where the killer hid three women's bodies in a closet and a fourth under the floor.

They said the jawbone of one of the six female victims is of the "Scandinavian racial type." They called descriptions of the skeleton to police in Norway, Sweden and Denmark in the hope of getting her identified.

The four bodies found in the rooming house in a dead-end street have been identified, but the victims whose bones were unearthed in the yard remain nameless. Detectives last week reconstructed human skeletons from the piles of assorted bones dug up in the yard.

Police also believe the "Scandinavian" may have been the first victim of the strangler, who apparently killed the women under mental derangement brought on by the full moon.

John Christie, 55, was seized by police last week and charged with the murder of his wife, one of the victims. He lived in a ground floor apartment there.

Waterspouts Whip Bermuda, Child Killed, Dozen Hurt

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—A series of waterspouts cut across Bermuda during a heavy rainstorm Sunday, ripping off roofs, washing away cars and doing other serious damage. One child was reported killed and a dozen persons injured.

The tubular columns of water whipped up from the ocean and struck without warning, slicing narrow paths of damage. The roofs of business buildings in the heart of the city were blown off.

A falling tree caved in the roof of one house and trapped six occupants until rescue workers could dig them out.

The whirling wind and water washed two cars into Harrington Sound.

'Steady As You Go'

THE WEST'S SOMEWHAT BEWILDERED reaction to the opening of Premier Malenkov's Second Peace Offensive is now clarified. The west will hold the line.

After several years of hearing vituperation and abuse at international conferences attended by Russia, after being plagued by the continual "Nyet" of Soviet spokesmen, after being the object of hate campaigns, border incidents and diplomatic sorties for many months, it was natural for the west to be taken aback by the abrupt about-face executed by the Kremlin.

Whether the new play is entirely Malenkov's gambit or one planned in advance by the late Joseph Stalin matters little at the moment. The major point is—what is the purpose and intention of this development. The west appears ready to give the Russians full credit for any good they may do, but will scrutinize each move with care—and continue with full defensive preparations.

The mood was summed up on Saturday by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, in a speech marking the fourth anniversary of the signing of the North Atlantic Treaty. "You can be sure that we shall meet half-way a genuine attempt to reach a settlement," he said. But he added, "we must not make the mistake of thinking that we can relax our effort to build an effective defense. Still less must we allow ourselves to be divided from our friends."

The Washington reaction resembled that in London. Even if the negotiations beginning today result in a Korean peace, the United States will make no significant cut in its defense budget, government spokesmen said.

On the contrary, State Secretary John Foster Dulles made plain the American conviction that recent developments have not changed the "basic situation of the Soviet's aggressive threat."

"Peace," said President Eisenhower, "cannot be defended by the weak. It demands strength—strength of our armies, strength of our economies, and above all, strength of our spirit."

A few hours earlier, the President had indicated that the Russian overtures should be taken at face value until proved unworthy of consideration. Another look at the situation had evidently produced a firmer reaction from the administration. The emphasis appears to be on the fact that the danger we have faced heretofore has not been removed, that the Kremlin's long-range policy has not been altered.

In the light of this belief, the main struggle ahead is going to be on the home front—the effort to keep up public interest in security even though the Russians have begun throwing kisses instead of darts.

Traditionally reluctant to live in a state of armed preparation, the democracies may now face a new enemy—Soviet-encouraged lethargy which could prove to be a much more potent tactic of Russia than have the waving fist and the rattling sword.

A Natural Trade Link

OTTAWA REPORTS INDICATE that the "main point" of talks during the recent visit of Prime Minister Rene Mayer to the Canadian capital was the current unfavorable balance of trade between France and this country.

That is a situation that exists between France and most other lands. The republic is buying more from them than it sells. In the case of Canada, France imported $48 million worth of goods during 1952, but exported only $19 millions.

Between any two countries, of course, such an imbalance need not lead to ill effects on either party. The discrepancy can be made up through commerce with one or more other customers. But when the condition becomes generalized, when a country finds itself buying everywhere more than it sells, the warning signals become plain. The exchange rates quickly adjust themselves to the unequal forces and eventually trade becomes impossible by reason of the resulting high prices of foreign customers.

The condition as regards France and Canada has not yet become extreme, but it is serious enough for both governments to have joined in agreement that "suppression of the obstacles to trade and payments was essential to the development of production, the strengthening of the defense of the free world and the improvement of the standard of living."

There is much that is complementary between the economies of France and Canada. There must be many trade opportunities for a country renowned for its luxury goods and highly specialized manufactures, and one, on the other hand, that is a major producer of raw materials, foods and certain forms of machinery. But in 1946 and '47 France stood third in importance as a customer, but only 23rd and 19th, respectively, as a source of goods for our use.

As with most international trade since the close of the war, currency difficulties have proved a major impediment. The recent Ottawa statement does little more than attest recognition of the problem. It is to be hoped that further work may lead to at least a partial solution.

We Could Use a Woolsey

A NUMBER OF CANADIANS may believe Vancouver would have been well advised to let the "Tobacco Road" case rest on the decision of Judge J. A. McGeer quashing conviction against the producers and actors on charges of staging a lewd and indecent performance.

That attitude would have avoided a recurrence of criticism against the city which protests a play acceptable elsewhere on the continent.

On the other hand an appeal to a higher court suggests certain advantages. By the appeal and subsequent judgment precedent may be established to serve as a guide should a similar prosecution be launched in the future. So far in the B.C. courts no satisfactory authority seems to have been established to cover points raised by opposing sides. In the first instance the police magistrate found the company at fault. On appeal, the County Court judge reversed that decision. What may happen as the case proceeds upward only the bench can decide.

To the layman it would appear no adequate yardstick exists at present in this province by which to measure such questions on moral grounds. The position is somewhat analogous in the situation in the United States before Judge John M. Woolsey handed down his famous judgment on James Joyce's "Ulysses" in December, 1933, and had it confirmed in August, 1934. The Woolsey decision, admitting "Ulysses" into the United States, provides a standard of judgment for that type of writing in the United States.

If the appeal launched against Judge McGeer's findings can produce a similar treatise, a highly valuable document will result. The honest concern expressed by individuals and groups here over certain works, written and acted, calls for some definite authority on the legal propriety involved.

A good judgment on the "Tobacco Road" appeal might furnish it.

Is This 'Anti-Unionist'?

LAST AUGUST STRIKES IN THE construction trades held up completion of certain Greater Victoria School Board building projects. The delays occasioned widespread inconvenience, forcing use of the shift system in certain classrooms. The irritation caused by disruption of classes was widely felt and deplored.

On the Oak Bay Junior High School job—the major undertaking affected by the strike—a peculiar condition existed. The board had hoped to open the school in time for the term starting in September. That hope had been predicated on the earlier progress reports, which indicated the building would be ready far ahead of schedule. Because of the work stoppage, the hopes for early completion were not realized.

The school board, while deeply concerned in the question, was in no position to exercise its weight one way or the other in the strike. It could take no official action until the date on which contractors had undertaken to turn the buildings over, for use. Since that date was well on in the 1952 term, the trustees did the only thing possible. They remained aloof from the strike. They took sides neither with the strikers nor the contractors.

That background should be understood at this time in view of a charge made to the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (AFL-TLC) that the school board did everything in its power to break the strike and that it was the most "anti-unionist" group in the city at that time.

The Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council is a responsible organization. It should, of course, permit its members the utmost freedom to express opinions. But if it wishes to preserve its reputation for responsibility, can it allow members to make such statements without re-

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

IF YOU write to H. Roth & Son, at 1577 First Avenue, New York 28, and ask for their free catalogue (as I have just done) you will see wonders. I read about the catalogue, along with many other fascinating ones in The Herbarist, the little annual got out by The Herb Society of America. I am no magician with herbs, either in the garden or kitchen, but I try to learn a "little, and an old friend of mine who is the society's secretary keeps sending me their annual (and other things) in the pious hope that one day I will garden and cook and dine in a manner worthy of the human race. I've a long way to go before I can appreciate all the weeds she puts into her salads and into her letters, but I've come a long way too.

WELL, H. Roth & Son sell herbs and spices in great profusion, which is their connection with readers of The Herbarist. Three kinds of really genuine paprika at $1.20 a pound... half a dozen kinds of pepper, not counting the paprika which must really be a pepper too... elder flowers at $2.00 a pound... manna sticks, linden flowers (for tea), anything you want. The best Spanish saffron... I hope you put saffron in your risotto or pilau?

There are also pages and pages of out-of-the-way foods... everything from acacia honey to Hungarian sheep's milk cheese in big earthenware tubs. Some of the catalogue is written in Magyar, by the way, and a great deal of it in German, but there is enough English (and a huge assortment of pictures) to make everything plain. There are a few pages of recipes, too, in German and English, for German cakes.

BUT what I like best is the very queer range of goods sold by H. Roth. It isn't odd to find kitchen equipment there, though many of the articles look as old-fashioned as they are practical... heavily tinned pans and sheets and moulds of queer old shapes, tin on heavy metal, for baking... decorated brass coffee mills, made in Turkey, and shaped like tall thin castles ($8.50)... noodle-slicing machines adjustable to ten different sizes, and looking like Gutenberg's first printing press... a cookie-maker that fits onto your meat-grinder... pointed wooden spoons, with the point at one side of the end, so that you can mean anything very much provided it achieves a sort of gnomic or proverbial sound, preferably with a bit of metaphor thrown in. For example, "If you can't stand it, try sitting on it." Sermons, house organs, and The Reader's Digest all bristle with this sort of thing.

ern equipment, was living a lot better than you do. And enjoying it more.

AS I say, it isn't odd to find kitchen equipment among the poppy seed and the Bismarck herring and the gingerbread from Basel. No, the things that made me jump a little were tobacco pipes, moustache brushes, imported shovels, walking sticks, very large lizard skins at $5.50, and Brazilian boa constrictor skins at a dollar a foot up to 12 feet. And men's hair nets. Plus Hungarian dictionaries and gramophone records.

I like the one-pound box of saffron... which would last you several lifetimes, I should think, and would cost about as much as a case of rye... for on it there was a picture of a Spanish man-of-war, built about 1885 or 90, and plainly marked 15,700 tons... the ship and her displacement are so remotely connected with saffron, they charm me. But I think I liked the gent's hair net best of all. I must always wear one while brushing my moustache into the noodle-machine.

EAST ANGLICAN FAMILY

WHILE looking up something else in the dictionary, I ran across the information that bedbugs are known as Norfolk Howards, and have been for almost 100 years. This was news to me, if not to you. In the 1860's one Joshua Bugg of London got sick of his name, so he changed it by deed-poll to Norfolk, Howard, and duly advertised this fact in The Times. Whereupon the mealy-mouthed citizens who avoided the word "bug" began to call the creatures Norfolk Howards, as a combined joke and useful gentleness, and the fate of poor Joshua Bugg and Norfolk Howard was much worse than ever. I find this a little sad.

By the way, I bet I know why he chose his new name rather than another name. He told his brother or some intimate that he was sick of Joshua Bugg, and the other replied "You're an awful coward," and Josh said "Very well, that is the name I'll take Nawlful Coward, or Norfolk Howard." He should have changed once more, to escape the old entomology. Today the obvious solution would be some name with the initials D.D.T. But in Joshua's day Kentish's powder was probably already available, and he could have become Wait Price Keating, or I. Hale Theo Keating, or anything like that. Joshua quit too easily.

SIMPLE WISDOM

I THINK it's time we had some Homely Philosophy in this column. It is always immensely popular, and needn't mean anything very much provided it achieves a sort of gnomic or proverbial sound, preferably with a bit of metaphor thrown in. For example, "If you can't stand it, try sitting on it." Sermons, house organs, and The Reader's Digest all bristle with this sort of thing.

As Our Readers See It

SHORT MEMORY

I suppose I should feel flattered that in the opinion of your editorial writer there is a "wing" of the CCF to which my name may appropriately be attached.

But a long experience of the devious ways of editorial writers leads me to suspect that the intention was not as much to attribute a quite undeserved prominence and importance to my quite modest place in the party, as to create doubts about the CCF in the minds of the general public and suspicion and dissension among CCF supporters.

My suspicions are reinforced by your republishing in the same editorial the hoary and long exposed slander that Harold Winch once stated that the RCMP would be used to enforce "a new social order." Every newspaper in Canada is, or ought to be, aware that this charge against Mr. Winch was an impudent lie and has long since been exposed as such. Reputable papers no longer publish it. The suggestion that there is a "wing" of the CCF which would applaud such a silly statement is another slander cut from the same shoddy piece of material.

It seems strange that the retirement of a man who has given 20 years of valuable service to the province should be seized upon as an occasion to resurrect this disreputable slander against him and I am sure the general public will regard it as an action reflecting little credit upon the profession of journalism.

VOICE OF YOUTH

This letter is my answer to Mr. William A. Laming's question, "What does youth think of the disgraceful spectacle in our Legislature of late?"

As a student, I ask what the true colors of the Social Credit are?

They came into power on a completely ridiculous type of vote, one which was designed mainly to keep out the CCF. This is obvious because a "private enterprise" voter has three choices before the CCF, while a CCFer has but one choice and then must choose a private enterprise party (unless he plumps).

Now I would say that any voter in his right mind wants one party, and one party only, so why should he be asked to cast a vote for another? What's the use in voting, if we have to vote for every party?

Secondly, have Socialists got the good of the people in their minds? We all know that Premier Bennett tried to get the leadership of the Progressive Conservative party. What would HE be saying about the Social Credit party if he had attained this leadership? And what about Mr. Bonner?

In conclusion I would say that Social Credit means nothing except a way of making a living for a number of amateur politicians who have not been able to get the power and the support which they desire in any of the three "true" British Columbian parties.

FEELING NO PAIN

I have just read the letter written by J. H. Gray published in the Times and, although I do not know about the alleged "nail polish" education, I think it surpasses the most ignorant gullibility to believe such silliness is a part of our educational system.

I am not long out of school and the only part of training I had concerning make-up was a warning about tampering with the color of the hair and against applying mascara too close to the roots of the lashes. We were told this not in a science class, but in a guidance class.

Women are going to wear make-up, regardless of ridicule such as yours, Mr. Gray, so it seems only sensible to advocate the most healthful manner of application.

As to the charge that the hairs of fur pieces have all at one time "quivered with the color of the hair animals bred for pelts are killed with equal humanity—as beef cattle, etc. Although women prize furs for their appearance, they are also very practical, being very hardy and very warm.

Our soldiers wear furs in cold weather as part of their battle dress. If by chance Mr. Gray is one of those objects in principle to the killing of any animal, let me say that Christ ate flesh, some of his disciples were fishermen, also that the absence of vocal cords and freedom of movement in plants does not necessarily mean they are devoid of feeling.

If you begin on that line of thinking which possesses most vegetarians, then it is only reasonable to carry it to the end. If it were not for experimentation with animals, which is not carried on in order to inflict pain, we would still be considering ourselves ready for the grave at 30 years of age rather than 80.

"COMMON SENSE."

UNITED FISHERMEN

I have read with interest statements by Mr. William Goddard in the Victoria Times on March 27 and The Daily Colonist of March 28. According to Mr. Goddard, who is a candidate for the office of business agent of the UFAWU, "the union is rapidly approaching the rocks under the present leadership"—"public opinion is against the union"—"co-operation is failing among the membership with the public and with management." In short, according to Mr. Goddard, we are in a terrible mess.

Personally as a member of this union I resent very much the public attack which Mr. Goddard has made upon my organization. He follows the company line when he blames last year's strikes on "ill-advised guidance from the executive." He claims that "some members felt there was a lack of desire to negotiate." Nowhere in his statement does he mention the ultimatums and unjustified price cuts which really caused the strikes. He prefers to agree with the bilge peddled by the Fisheries Association.

The gall of Mr. Goddard is hard to beat. He winds up by saying in reference to himself and his two running mates "we can hold the membership together." May I ask how—and with what? Where was Mr. Goddard when the going was tough last year? How did he help hold the membership together?

In my opinion the UFAWU is not going on the rocks in spite of Mr. Goddard. We are going to stick together for a decent living with leaders who are prepared to stand up to the companies—not men who swallow the company line.

A Change of Bait for the Flies

BY JOSEPH AND STEWART ALSOP From Washington

THE Soviet rulers probably actually do want to end the fighting in Korea. Moreover, the Korean move may portend a new Soviet policy line which will subject the mettle of the West to a test at least as severe as the Korean war itself. This about sums up the majority view of the experts who have been studying the recent signs and portents from Moscow.

There are, of course, plenty of different theories as to why the Soviets may want to end the Korean war. But the theory most generally favored starts with the death of Joseph Stalin and the coming to power of Georgi M. Malenkov.

Stalin was an old man, with his roots in the period of Russian revolutionary ferment. However much he may have diverged from Communist doctrine in practice, Stalin was deeply imbued with the doctrinaire rigidity of the old revolutionary. This rigidity has repeatedly saved the West.

A less violent policy might well have brought the Communists to power in Western Europe after the war. Stalin could have wrecked the Marshall Plan simply by joining it. The Soviet-engineered Czech coup awoke the West, and the Korean war alerted the West again, after it had gone comfortably to sleep in the Louis Johnson era. And so on.

NOT A REVOLUTIONARY

Malenkov is a young man, and he is not a revolutionary at all. He is a practical expert in the art of seizing and exercising power in the modern slave state. Moreover, he has nothing but contempt for doctrine. In a speech he delivered in 1946, Malenkov savagely attacked the Soviet theoreticians and doctrinaire intellectuals—"people who have quotations from Marx and Engels ready for every purpose and every pretext."

No one believes that Malenkov's objectives will differ in essence from Stalin's. But this ruthless, intensely practical man, more flexible than his aged predecessor, may use different means to the same end. Malenkov's immediate objective, of course, like Stalin's, is the death of the West, to consolidate his own regime.

The war in Korea involves a real threat to Malenkov's regime, especially because Malenkov still lacks Stalin's prestige within the Soviet empire. Malenkov cannot rule out the possibility that the new American administration will adopt measures to bring to bear increased military pressure to end the war, and thus enlarge the area of conflict.

In this case, Malenkov would have to choose between dishonoring commitments made by Stalin to China, the major Soviet satellite, or becoming directly involved in conflict with the United States. Either course might fatally weaken Malenkov's hold on power. At the same time, the new American policy of "disengaging" American ground troops has reduced the practical value of the Korean war to the Kremlin.

ULTIMATE OBJECTIVES

As for Malenkov's ultimate objectives, they are, like Stalin's, to weaken the West and eventually to rule it. But where Stalin used vinegar to catch such flies as he caught, the more flexible Malenkov may have understood the practical value of using molasses.

This does not mean that the signs of a change in Soviet tactics are bad news—they are very good news, and a tribute to the steadfastness of the United States and the existing leadership of the West. But if the fighting ends in Korea it will certainly become harder for the United States and its weary allies to remember the simple truth.

This is that words of sweet reason from the Kremlin do not affect the vast military power of the Soviet Union, nor the constantly growing Soviet stockpile of atomic bombs, nor the ultimate purposes of the men in the Kremlin.

THINKING FAIRLY
If all mankind, minus one, were of one opinion, and only one person were of the contrary opinion, mankind would be not more than justified in silencing the one person than he, if he had the power, would be justified in silencing mankind.

The peculiar evil of silencing the opinion is that it is robbing the human race; posterity as well as the existing generation; those who dissent from the opinion, still more than those who hold it. If the opinion is right, they are deprived of the opportunity of exchanging error for truth; if wrong, they lose what is almost as great benefit, the clearer perception and livelier impression of truth produced by its collision with error.

27th Brigade Happy If Busy

Canucks in Germany Cheery, Willing, Smart as Whips

By BILL BOSS

After 2½ years as Canadian Press staff correspondent with the 25th Canadian Brigade in Korea, Bill Boss has spent three weeks in Germany with another brigade of Canadian troops. In this story, one of a series, he describes the calibre of the force in Germany and describes its training routine.

HANNOVER, Germany (CP)—In the field, the 27th Canadian Brigade is really hot.

Out on schemes, the men who form Canada's army contribution to the defense of Western Europe are cheerful, willing, hard-working and zestful.

In Hannover their smart precision and turn-out on the parade square would put to shame the Buckingham Palace guard I saw in London.

The Canadians I watched in several training areas are the equal of or better than troops I've seen anywhere. They are making full use of training areas better than any in Canada.

Schwarmstedt, near Hannover, is a thickly wooded area. Weighing parts of the military camps at Petawawa and Camp Borden, Ont. It isn't large enough for extended exer-

Manoeuvres Break Monotony

Cpl. Adrien Breault of Ottawa said such schemes break the monotony of the training which otherwise goes on in the same old cycle and becomes boring.

The 79th Field Regiment of the Royal Canadian Artillery and C Squadron of the Royal Canadian Dragoons are stationed at Hohn. They use training grounds where Gen. Heinz Guderian, before and during the war, perfected his German panzer formations. Infantry companies go up from Hannover to acclimatize themselves to working with tanks.

A five-hour drive from Hannover is Pulos Camp, on the Baltic, which the brigade shares with other units in its British corps. Battalions go up for 10 days at a time. Pulos is essentially a live-firing range where every weapon used by an infantry battalion can be employed.

I visited Pulos while the 1st Canadian Infantry Battalion, commanded by Lieut. Col. G. M. C. Sprung of Ottawa, was in training and again was impressed by the verve shown in platoon tactics.

Maj. William Leonard of Toronto, the brigade major, said:

"Besides giving the men a break from Hannover, it shows them the need to learn more about their basic weapons. Pulos keeps us in touch with our deficiencies."

Not as Sharp as Some Declare

Defense Minister Claxton and Brig. Geoffrey Walsh, the former brigade commander, have said the brigade is the "best trained and hardest hitting formation in the NATO armies." Officers here say such statements should not be made by Canadians.

"You can't tell soldiers that and expect them to accept a rigorous routine," one senior officer said. "They ask: 'If we're that good what's the hurry?' They're good, but not that good."

As it is, one commander said his unit and most others have only 95 of their 380-odd infantrymen qualified first class. Three months ago, at least one company had no serviceable machine-gun in its stores.

Next month the brigade moves to the Solltau area north of Hannover in the Lüneburg Heath training grounds. Training will reach the company and battalion level in May. In June the brigade will be represented at London Coronation ceremonies. June will see the battalions run through Pulos again. In July they will be in Claustel-Zellerfeld, a similar firing range in hilly country; and in August at Sennelager in the Ruhr on

SHILLELAGH FESTIVAL SYMBOL

Faith! They'll Show Ye A Foine Time in Dublin

DUBLIN (Reuters)—The Irish gathered in O'Connell Street Saturday night to open a three-week festival welcoming strangers to their friendly green land.

The good-will party ended up in a knock-down, drag-out battle with the police, sent four Irishmen to hospital and 12 to jail. Cause of the violence was unexplained.

Crowds poured out from saloons during the evening into Dublin's main street, overhung with lanterns and draped in bunting of the Republic of Ireland's tri-color flag.

BLAZING SIX-GUNS

Colorado Sheriff Slays Abductors

HOT SULPHUR SPRINGS, Colo. (CP)—Two young gunmen kidnapped sheriff Chauncey Van Pelt Saturday and then died before his blazing six-shooter in the climax to a wild chase through a blinding snow storm high in the Colorado Rockies.

The sheriff, who has had many close calls in the past, was forced into an auto at gunpoint when he recognized a stolen auto after being called to investigate an accident.

He said the two men who kidnapped him were Harold Glass, 21, and Roy Kane, 23, both wanted for murder in Oklahoma.

The 44-year-old sheriff said he had his .32-calibre revolver inside his jacket as the men drove off in the stolen car, one of two involved in a collision. They left two men standing in the road with the other auto.

The two left behind called police and road blocks were set up to nab the stolen auto.

SMASH WINDSHIELD

The two gunmen smashed the windshield and rear window glass in order to fire shots at the marshal of Hot Sulphur Springs, Melvin Knox, took chase in his own car.

Van Pelt ducked down on the floor of the car during the exchange of gunfire.

"I had been talking to the guys all along," said Van Pelt.

THOUSANDS JAM STREETS

S. Koreans Demand Unity

SEOUL (AP)—Thousands of South Koreans jammed into streets in front of Seoul's bombed and burned-out capital building Sunday as Republic of Korea officials voiced demands for unification of all Korea before any armistice with the Communists.

Scores of signs in English demanded that all Chinese Communists be driven from Korea and that North Koreans be disarmed before any armistice is concluded.

Signs in the Korean language made the same demand. Another sign demanded "UN assurance that it will prevent any third power from assisting any North Korean puppets."

City officials had ordered the demonstration for 10 a.m.—the hour United Nations and Communist liaison officers met in Panmunjon to discuss an immediate exchange of sick and wounded prisoners of war.

The liaison officers had no authority to discuss any armistice, but the subject they had under consideration could, if it worked out smoothly, lead to a reopening of the truce negotiations.

'I'LL NEVER GIVE UP'

Fifth Disappointment For Sorrowing Father

LONDON (Reuters)—A 70-year-old Canadian stood under the clock at King's Cross station Sunday waiting for the son who never comes.

After several hours of waiting he took one last look around and walked sadly away.

Grey-haired John Sutherland, a cement manufacturer from Vancouver, has done this every Easter for five years.

For on Easter Sunday, 1948, at 2.15 p.m., standing on this same spot, Sutherland believes he saw his lost son—Ft. Sgt. Wilfred Sutherland, reported missing, presumed dead, when his Stirling bomber was shot down over the Netherlands in 1943.

"He was only six feet away," the father said. "He looked at me but clearly did not recognize me and hurried off towards the ticket office. I was so startled I could not move. And when I went after him he had gone."

In the hope that his son will return to this spot, Sutherland comes over every year from Canada for a month's stay and spends hours at the station.

"I know my son is alive," he said. "I think he is suffering from loss of memory. But one day I know I'll find him. He would be 35 now."

"If I don't see him this year I'll come back next year and the year after that. . . I'll never give up."

2 Red PWs Killed In Poje Island Camp

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—The United Nations prisoner-of-war command today said two Red PWs were shot to death and one wounded, another was found slain, and a threatened escape was choked off last Friday in three incidents at camps on and near Koje Island.

The command said there was nothing to indicate the incidents were connected. All three involved North Korean prisoners. No UN personnel were hurt.

The incident riot was the greatest threat of the day, the command said.

On Yoncho Island, just off Koje, a prisoner attacked an American soldier guard with a rock and the guard shot him to death. Five hundred prisoners in the compound massed in a chanting mob, then some 3,500 others in nearby compounds began to shout and scream. A show of armed force prevented any outbreak, the command said.

An American guard fired on two PWs trying to flee from a compound on Koje. One prisoner was killed and the other wounded.

In another enclosure of the same Koje camp guards found a POW hanging in a washroom, "apparently murdered by fellow prisoners."

Douk's Easter Ends in Riot

Peace Erupts Into Riotous 20 Minutes; Burn Clothes, Money

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—A peaceful afternoon of Doukhobor Easter prayers and singing erupted into a riotous 20 minutes in which clothes and money were tossed into a bonfire Sunday.

The violence by the radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobors broke out during Easter observances at Shoreacres, 15 miles west of here.

During a sermon by John Perepelkin, chairman of the Christian Community and Brotherhood of Reformed Doukhobors, banners bearing pictures of Stefan Sorokin, spiritual leader of the Reformed son, were unfurled by four teen-aged boys.

Several Doukhobor bystanders began tearing the banners, shouting that Christ would be their only guide.

Some women disrobed and threw their clothes into a fire. One woman tossed a purse into the flames and another ignited a five-dollar bill and held it in her hand until it was destroyed.

DINNER HELD

Later in the evening, a dinner was held for guests who included a representative from the Doukhobor consultative committee, Canadian Pacific Railway officials and newspapermen. During the dinner 15 nude teen-agers entered the room and sang for the remainder of the meal.

The outbreak followed renewal of violence by Sons of Freedom last week along the CPR Kettle Valley rail line. Tracks were dynamited at two points Tuesday night and a third bombing occurred on a rail line leading to a Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company plant near Blueberry.

At a special meeting later in the week, the International Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen charged lack of interest in their safety.

CPR officials, subsequently announced "strategic zones" would be flood-lighted and guards would patrol the tracks from dusk to dawn.

Portugal's Pantheon To Be Carol's Tomb

LISBON (CP)—Former King Carol of Romania, who died of a heart attack early Saturday, will be buried beside the kings of Portugal at the St. Vincent National Pantheon.

Premier Oliveira Salazar gave permission for burial there to Carol's third wife, former Mme. Elena (Magda) Lupescu, who was alone with the one-time playboy ruler when he collapsed and died in his villa at nearby Estoril. He was 59.

House to Sit Nights, Mornings, Afternoons

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons is aiming to finish business by May 8 or sooner.

Now recessed for a four-day Easter holiday, the House returns to work Tuesday and the following week—beginning April 13—will start morning, afternoon and night sittings.

The usual half-holiday on Wednesdays will be eliminated.

The increase in the sitting hours is intended to speed the session so government leaders and other members can get away for the Coronation in London June 2.

Progress has been fairly slow since the house met in November.

S. Rhodesians Vote On Union

50,000 to Cast Ballots on Proposed African Federation

By LLEWELLEN COOK

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (Reuters)—Nearly 50,000 Southern Rhodesians will give their verdict on the proposed Central African federation of Northern and Southern Rhodesia and Nyasaland when they get to the polls in a referendum April 9.

Federation, on terms worked out at a London conference in January, would give the self-governing colony of Southern Rhodesia and the two British protectorates a virtually autonomous federal-parliament and prospects of ultimate dominion status in the British Commonwealth.

Two African representatives from each territory would sit in the parliament. Only where an African affairs board, as a standing committee of the federal parliament, felt that legislation was detrimental to native interests would royal assent be required.

Councils to Debate Proposals

The legislative councils of Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland will debate the proposals after the referendum has been held in Southern Rhodesia. The final decision will be taken on their behalf by the British government.

The future of Central African federation rests largely with the voters of Southern Rhodesia, now sharply divided.

The United Central Africa Association, organized several years ago to promote federation, argues that apart from obvious economic advantages of federation, the three territories must combine quickly and adopt a progressive racial policy. The alternative offer to Southern Rhodesia are ultimate absorption into the Union of South Africa or domination by two predominantly native territories to the north.

Godfrey emphasizes that it is essential to form a strong British bloc in Central Africa.

He believes Britons in Southern Rhodesia have evolved a racial policy which will eventually enable people of different races to live and work together in partnership.

The absence of serious native trouble in Southern Rhodesia since self-government was attained in 1923 indicates that Sir Godfrey's racial policy is basically sound.

Opposing the United Central Africa Association is the non-political Rhodesia Association leader Ray Stockil, is also leader of the opposition in the Southern Rhodesia parliament. He claims it is impossible to federate three states with such differing constitutional status.

Natives Opposed to Federation

Also against federation is Al-derman Charles Olley's White Rhodesia Council, an organization which advocates "apartheid" segregation on the South African pattern.

Native opinion, where vocal, is opposed to the federation plan in all three territories.

On Southern Rhodesia's common voters' roll there are only 429 registered native voters. A former chief native commissioner, J. Judson Beck, estimates at least 5,000 Africans are qualified to vote if they wish to register.

Some African leaders are opposed to federation because they feel Southern Rhodesia is their country and they should be allowed to run it.

Most of the natives do not know what federation means

Jobs Fewer Here, With Best Demand For Garden Work

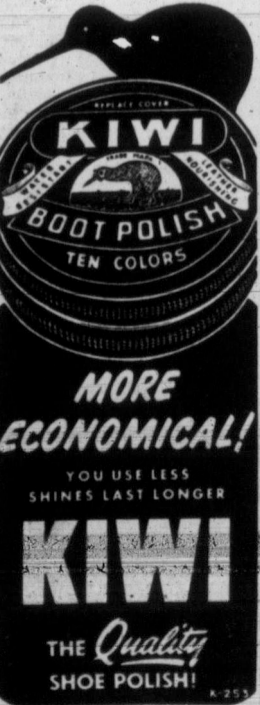

Jobs were scarce last week. But they are expected to be more plentiful during April, according to C. A. Mudge, manager of the National Employment Office here.

Most of the work now available for men is for gardening, he said. Layout men in sheet metal work and boilermaking are also wanted by the ship-building industry.

He said there is also a demand for welders who can meet the naval standard test.

GENERAL CONSTRUCTION WINS PAT BAY HIGHWAY CONTRACT

General Construction Co. Ltd., Vancouver, submitted the lowest tender for paving the Keating section of the Patricia Bay Highway.

The bid was $143,480. Three other firms tendered on the job, the highest being $155,050.

Lowest bid for reconstruction of 4.1 miles of the Nanaimo-Ladysmith section of the Island Highway was submitted by Emil Anderson Construction Co. of Hope. It was for $404,780.

Low bidder for construction of a new Meade Creek bridge was A. V. Richardson, Duncan, who bid $19,357.

The club has decided to drop its plan to introduce Victorian Order of Nursing into the district because of lack of support and high cost.

DUNCAN—Reports here indicate that at least five candidates will vie for honors at the April 14 nominating convention of the Cowichan-Newcastle Social Credit group.

DUNCAN—Plans for the new city hall at Canada Avenue and Ingram Street will not be endorsed until the city council learns whether the provincial government will be interested in renting space in the proposed building.

The government's decision likely will influence the final size of the building. Several government offices now are located in separate premises.

COURTENAY—City council will donate $100 toward combined Empire Day and Coronation Day celebrations in Cumberland and will conduct its own Coronation celebrations quietly.

A gentleman's agreement between two cities has permitted Cumberland to observe May 24, and Courtenay July 1 without opposition from the other.

DUNCAN—Mill Bay Community League has protested to the provincial government against the transfer of Queen Alexandra Solarium from Mill Bay to Gordon Head.

Loss of several families connected with the Solarium will affect business conditions in the district, officials stated.

Romania Frees Thousands of Prisoners

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet satellite regime in Romania announced Saturday night it is opening prison gates for thousands of convicts, as the Malenkov government in Moscow did a week ago. It said prosecutions also would be eased in Romania.

The announcement broadcast by Bucharest radio said prisoners serving sentences of not more than two years would be freed.

Sentences of all other prisoners were reduced and prosecution will be dropped in Romania for many persons now awaiting trial, it said.

The Bucharest announcement was followed with immediate and keen interest in London and other diplomatic capitals.

Many diplomats here took the view that eastern Communist chiefs want to ease internal tensions and at the same time throw sops to the west in order to give the Reds time to consolidate their powers.

The Romania broadcast gave no exact description of crimes for which pardons are being issued.

The decree touched off quick speculation in London whether other Soviet satellite countries may follow suit.

Prisoners in the satellites include Edgar Sanders, British businessman in jail in Hungary, and William N. Oatis, AP correspondent, serving 10 years in Czechoslovakia.

Atomic Experts Meet In Canada Wednesday

CHALK RIVER, Ont. (CP)—Atomic experts from Canada, Britain and the U.S. will meet here Wednesday in a conference which may help write a new chapter in commercial atomic history.

The three-day conference will mark the sixth post-war session of the three-country atomic "declassifiers," the men who get together periodically to consider what atomic secrets can be made public to help scientists without endangering Western security. The big question is whether the three countries will agree to further declassifications, essential if civilians are to get into the commercial atomic power field.

The important information still on the secret list, they say, deals particularly with technical phases of atomic furnace construction. There is no point of civilian industry discussing plans for building atom-driven power plants if the essential information is not released.

All three countries are keenly interested in commercial power development, but only the United States has announced that she has an atomic power plant in actual operation. That plant is a working model of a unit designed to power the world's first atomic submarine.

Britain is believed to be experimenting with the prototype of a commercial atomic unit and Canada plans to get into the experimental stage next year.

SCORELESS DEADLOCK

West's Capture District Title

Victoria West won the Victoria and District Football Association championship Sunday by holding a desperate Civil Service squad to a no-score deadlock.

West entered the contest with a two-point lead in standings and Civil Service needed a win to draw level with the high-scoring squad. West's have one game remaining against Adanacs while Civil Service have no scheduled games left to play.

GOALIES STAR

Both teams had trouble getting their offense clicking and consequently most rushes were either broken up at mid-field or disintegrated at the defense. The infrequent plays that did get through to the goal were stopped by goalie Joe Travis, Civil Service, and Norm Richards. Though no goal was scored, the game was performed flawlessly.

A cross wind blowing diagonally across the field hampered play considerably, often carrying the ball just beyond the reach of rushing forwards.

SHUFFLED LINE-UP

West played the season with only one defeat, that coming at the hands of Canadian Scottish in a cup match.

Soccer School Holds Final Jamboree Day

More than 100 youngsters attended the final session of the Dominion Football Association sponsored soccer school Saturday morning and participated in a inter-park competition.

Bullen Park edged Macdonald Park when the winner was decided by goal kicks. The nine and under group played scoreless throughout regulation time and Bullen took the match six goal kicks to five.

Oak Bay captured the eight and under laurels by defeating Heywood Avenue 2-0, and Macdonald Park, 4-0.

The school resumes in September.

Uplands Holds 'B' Tourney

Entries must be in by Wednesday for the Uplands Golf Club "B" championship Sunday. This will be an 18-hole medal round for golfers with handicaps of over 16.

Golfers competing in the Vancouver Island open tournament at Gorge Vale on the same day may use that score providing they notify John Wren at Uplands.

BUMPED OFF TWICE

Tyees Still Looking For Initial Victory

Victoria Tyees are still looking for their first pre-season win.

Vancouver Capilano dumped them, 9-0, Saturday night at their Sonoma training camp as holdover Van Fletcher turned in a sturdy mound performance for Capilano. Tyees picked up six hits but couldn't bunt them while Vancouver touched Rookie Zeb Walker for four runs in the second inning.

Walker was impressive in the other four innings he pitched before being relieved in favor of Don Hopp, who finished the game.

Tyees hits were tallied by Sam Brusa, Joe Gendry, Lu Brannan, Ron Odekir, Gale Taylor and Ron Washington.

LOSE SUNDAY

Sunday the Tyees went down to defeat 18-7, after allowing the semi-pro Moffat Montecas of San Francisco, 14 runs in the last two innings. Every player except one on the Montecas squad is a former professional.

Berlyn Hodges, local young star, started the contest and lasted five innings, giving up four runs, six hits and two walks before being pulled for Armond Noble. Noble pitched three innings but was wild in the seventh, walking five men and allowing seven runs. Don Hopp again finished up.

CEC HITS WELL

Manager Cec Garriott was the big man at the plate for the Tyees with three hits, including a bases loaded double, while Nap Gully rapped a double and single, and Ron Odekir picked up two hits. Ted Jennings slammed a grand slam home run for Montecas in the ninth inning.

Milt Martin arrived in camp and is expected to take over first string catching duties.

Wing forward John Wilson

room and told them to "keep going" in the playoffs.

Red Kelly of the Wings said Henry and winger Ed Sandford were the most troublesome Bruins. "Henry was great," he said. "And Sandford got six goals, most of them early in the game when they really fired up the Bruins and got 'em rolling."

The Bruin room was "swarmed" with well-wishers. Photographers, flash bulbs popped as they lined up Patrick, Henry, Dumart and the four goal-getters who put the lid on the dangerous wings Sunday - Sandford, Johnny Peirson, Fleming Mackell and Leo Labine.

Patrick expressed no preference between Montreal and Chicago but added: "Of

EILERS IRED

Hoop Sponsor Threatens Legal Action

WINNIPEG (CP)—A Vancouver basketball coach says his sponsor will sue the Canadian Amateur Association if the Canadian women's senior amateur championship is not played in Toronto starting April 8.

Gordon McDonald, coach of the Vancouver Eilers, who captured the Western Canada championship from Winnipeg Dominos Saturday, said Vancouver jeweller Walter Eilers is prepared to take legal action to recover the costs of the trip east for the team and the expenses involved to members of the team for time lost from work.

The battle started when McDonald learned the final series was set for April 13, which would mean his team, already away from home for two weeks, would have to wait another week for the series to start.

"With traveling time, it would mean a month away from their jobs for these girls and they just can't afford it," said McDonald.

McDonald says he is leaving with his team for Toronto Monday night. "We will stay in Toronto a reasonable length of time, but not later than the night of April 13," he said. "If the series is not complete by then, we will return home and our sponsor will take legal action."

Eilers chalked up a 46-30 win over Winnipeg Dominos Saturday for their second straight win in the best-of-three Western Canada senior women's basketball finals.

GORGE PAIR CHAMPIONS

The four-ball, best ball Hot Cross Bun tournament at Uplands Golf Club Good Friday was captured by Hugh Morrison and Bob Fleming, of Gorge Vale, by posting low gross of 62. Low net was won by Fred Ranson and Bill Newcomb of Uplands with a 62½.

Other prize winners were: Jim Robertson and Vic Painter, second low gross; L. Williams and F. Munroe, second low net; Ted Colgate and Bill McCall, third low gross; Bob Woods and Gordon Pellow, third low net; Bob Morrison and Frank Scroggs, fourth low gross; Eric Hoylock and Dave Myles, fourth low net.

DEFENSIVE STARS

Other Irish drives were only stopped by the outstanding defensive play of B.C.'s two-centres, Bill Kinder and Gerry Main, who time and again downed Noel Henderson and Ken Maguire when they seemed in the clear.

Jim Mill also played a sterling defensive game as he hamstringing the celebrated Dr. Jack Kyle, who, however, seemed content to pass the ball out to his centres or to kick rather than open up with the broken field runs that have made him famous.

Kinder narrowly missed the tying points when a field goal attempt went wide and Dave MacKenzie turned in some nice runs that fell yards short of completion.

Kyle then booted one of his pinpoint cross-kicks to Henderson on the opposite wing. Henderson was taken out by MacKenzie but he passed in to Chambers who went 30 yards for the unconverted try.

Just before the intermission Queen's raised the count to 9-0 when Henderson set up captain Mathewson for a 40-yard run and try.

gave the Irish a 12-0 lead right after the breather when he parted the uprights with a field goal from his off foot. Gregg converted a try by Robin Thompson, who had taken the ball on the five-yard line from Mathewson after the former's 60-yard breakaway, to further widen the margin.

B.C.'s retaliating drive got them to the five-yard line, where a set scrum hooked the ball back to Ray Calton. He cut in toward the posts, drew the defense, and passed to Kinder, who plunged over into the end zone. The easy conversion neatly crossed the bar, but as a defender touched it, was disallowed.

Five minutes later MacKenzie took a penalty on the 10-yard line right at the wing and surprised the Irish defense with a quick kick into the end zone. However, it was too short and Anderson saved before MacKenzie could reach the rolling ball.

Ian Kennedy went over from a "line-out" for the fourth Irish try just before Norm Blake of B.C. gathered up a loose ball after a five-yard scrum and fell over the line.

Blake was injured on the play and left shortly before time. B.C. pressed continually at the end, only to see Kyle gather up a rolling ball on his own 25-yard line for a quick pass to Henderson. Glass took the latter's pass, dodged 40 yards and relayed to Mathewson who crossed into paydirt.

Gregg made the easy convert to close out the scoring.

All-Conquering Queens Add B.C. Reps to List

Queen's University 25 B.C. Reps 6

By GEOFFREY CONWAY

Veni, Vendi, Vici! As did Julius Caesar thus refer to the Gauls, so might the touring Queen's University of Belfast have referred to their opponents on the rugby pitches of B.C.

The friendly Irish clubbed the B.C. Reps at Athletic Park Saturday for their fourth straight exhibition victory.

As in the three previous exhibitions, only two tries were given up by the Irish, while they employed a wide-open kicking game to run up 25 points on five tries, a penalty, a field goal and two conversions in a contest marked by exceptional forward play.

Reps were very much in contention in the opening 10 minutes with only careless passing and offside saving the Irish defense from being scored upon.

Then Queen's offense began to roll and after Noel Henderson plunged over the line, but was held up, Dion Glase parted the posts with a neat 30-yard penalty kick.

Crippled Flyers Keep On Rolling

Edmonton 3, Vancouver 2
New Westminster 4, Saskatoon 2

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Edmonton Flyers are rolling along in the Western Hockey League playoffs even with their two all-star players out with injuries.

They nipped Vancouver Canucks 3-2 Saturday at Vancouver in the opening game of their best-of-five semi-finals without the services of Vic Stasiuk and Dutch Reibel. Stasiuk and Reibel also missed most of the quarter-finals in which Flyers beat Calgary Stampeders 3-2.

In the other best-of-seven semi-final, the defending champion Saskatoon Quakers now need two wins to reach the finals.

The Royals won 4-2 at New Westminster Saturday for their third straight victory and a 3-2 lead in the series.

Goalie Glen Hall was the spark plug in the Edmonton win, making 30 stops to 14 by Emile Francis in the Vancouver cage. Canucks had most of the play in the second and third periods but Hall turned them back repeatedly.

Jim Anderson opened the scoring for the Flyers at 8:04 of the first period. Canucks tied it up five minutes later on a close-in shot by Andy Bating.

Anderson and Bill Folk scored for the Flyers in the second period and Eddie Leier tallied the only Vancouver goal of the session. Anderson's winning goal came on a two-man rush with Frank O'Grady which caught the Vancouver defense napping.

With Francis out of the nets in the final minute of the game, Flyers' Jim Uniack got two breakaways but missed the net both times.

Royals took a two-goal lead over the Quakers on scoring plays by Ken Ulliyot and Pete Durham. Jackie McLeod fired Saskatoon's first goal at 12:32 of the second period.

Blinky Boyce and Ulliyot picked up the other New Westminster goals and Alex Kaleta tallied for the Quakers. There was no scoring in the third period.

Saskatoon benched juniors Dale Sweeney and Ed Kassian for veterans Howie Milford. Bill Henderson and Cy Rouse, all out with injuries for a month.

The two teams meet again at Westminister tonight. A seventh game, if necessary, will be played in Saskatoon Thursday.

Edmonton and Vancouver will tie in the second game of their series at Vancouver Tuesday. The third is at Edmonton Saturday and a fourth, if necessary, at Edmonton on Monday.

LOUISVILLE (AP)—Brooklyn Dodgers today optioned Sandy Amoros, Cuban outfielder, to Montreal.

Mic Mac Booters Win Island Soccer Title

Victoria Mic Mac's, third division club in the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association, became the second local minor soccer team to win an Island final and earn the right to travel to Vancouver for the provincial playoffs.

Mic Mac's downed Brechin of Nanaimo, 3-0, on two goals by Eric Badminton and one by Bob Noble while holding Nanaimo scoreless, to capture the Reg. Hayward, Jr. Cup. The game was played at Sidney War Memorial Park, Sunday.

In a first division semi-final knockout series at Sidney, Eagles clipped Sidney Teen Town, 4-0. Bill Hussey scored two goals and Gordon Sillars and Bob Showers added singletons.

ANAF Vets defeated Harris Cycle, 2-0, in a first division local knockout semi-final match at Beacon Hill Park. Vets scored both goals in the first half with the wind at their backs and played a strictly defensive game in the second canto for their win.

Gary Crowe and Noel Boston were the marksmen. Vets now meet Eagles in the final contest for the Whittaker Cup next week-end.

Playing with the wind in the second half Eagles notched their markers by displaying a strong offensive game. P. Powers notched two counters and J. Shipley added the other.

The win advanced Eagles into the final against Delta Electric for the H. H. Brown Cup next week-end.

League Kings Eliminated; Hawks Blanked

Boston 4, Detroit 2
Montreal 3, Chicago 0

A forward line composed of misfits wrought the ruin of the mighty Detroit Red Wings Sunday night.

The killer threesome that boosted Boston Bruins into the Stanley Cup finals was composed of Johnny Peirson, a right-winger playing left wing; Eddie Sandford, a centre playing right wing; and Fleming Mackell, a right-winger playing centre. Each of them contributed a goal to Boston's 4-2 victory.

While the three DP's were ushering the National Hockey League champions to the sidelines, rookie goalie Jacques Plante was plotting the plaudits of his Montreal teammates for racking up a shutout in his first playoff game Saturday night as the Canadiens whipped Chicago Black Hawks 3-0.

The performance of Plante, who took over from a discouraged Gerry McNeil at the latter's request "for the good of the club," enabled the Montrealers to square their best-of-seven semifinal at three games apiece. The deciding game will be played at Montreal Tuesday night.

PERSONAL TRIUMPH

Boston's six-game victory over the power-packed Red Wings, top-heavy favorites to win their second straight Stanley Cup, was a personal triumph for coach Lynn Patrick.

Apart from concocting the unlikely Mackell-Peirson-Sandford combination, the Bruin pilot dreamed up the veteran trio of Milt Schmidt, Woody Dumart and Joe Klukay to ride herd on the top Detroit line of Gordie Howe, Ted Lindsay and Marty Pavelich.

While Schmidt and his mates shackled the Red Wing marksmen, the Bruin forwards played a waiting game, let the champions come to them most of the way and broke away on deadly sorties when they caught their opponents out of position.

Sunday night's game was typical. Not till the Wings lost Tony Leswick on a penalty did the Bruins launch a serious offensive and then it produced a goal by Sandford, his sixth in as many games. In the second frame Peirson stabbed at a long shot by Sandford and steered it into the corner for the second tally, which Reggie Sinclair matched before the period ended.

NIP AND TUCK

Mackell restored the two-goal lead early in the third period, Lindsay cut it to one two minutes later, and rookie Leo Labine, a farmhand from Hershey Bears of the American Hockey League, served it up on a breakaway. In the entire period Boston fired only five shots at Terry Sawchuk while Bruin goalie Jim Henry handled 18.

It was the first time in seven years that Boston has made the finals and only the second time in six seasons that Detroit has missed.

At Chicago young Plante, who spent most of the season with Buffalo Bisons of the AHL, took over much as McNeil had done three years earlier, when the great Bill Durnan made way for his younger understudy as he ran into a streak of tough luck.

Young Plante wasn't worked too hard Saturday night, but he handled 29 shots like a veteran while Bernie Goefton, Maurice Richard and Ken Mosell looked after Montreal's scoring in the first two periods.

Chicago coach Sid Abel praised the 24-year-old youngster but added that his Hawks had given their worst performance of the year.

Bower Still Leads Barons

CLEVELAND (AP)—Goal-tender Johnny Bower hung up his third shutout in five playoff games Saturday night as Cleveland Barons blanked Pittsburgh Hornets 2-0 in the first game of the best-of-seven final series for the American Hockey League's Calder Cup.

Ray Ross, rookie Bruin centre, and Jack Gordon, Cleveland captain, scored the two goals at 7:02 and 14:32 of the second period.

Bob Bailey, Cleveland centre, was taken to hospital for observation after being carried off the ice on a stretcher in the last minute of the second period. Bailey went over backward striking his head, and had a four-stitch gash.

Bower made 27 saves as he throttled the Hornet attack.

'NEVER FELT BETTER IN MY LIFE'

Patrick's Strategy Shackled Wings

BOSTON (CP)—"I never felt better in my life," shouted coach Lynn Patrick as he raced across the ice to the Boston dressing room after the Bruins finished off defending champion Detroit in one of Stanley Cup hockey's greatest form reversals.

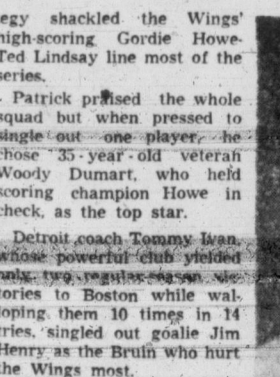

The jubilant Bruins yelled happily as they crowded into their quarters after taking their semifinal series with the Red Wings with a 4-2 triumph Sunday night that sent a Boston Garden throng of 13,909 home happy.

"This is really great," grinned Patrick, whose strategy shackled the Wings' high-scoring Gordie Howe-Ted Lindsay line most of the series.

Patrick prised the whole squad but when pressed to single out one player, he chose 35-year-old veteran Woody Dumart, who held scoring champion Howe in check, as the top star.

Detroit coach Tommy Ivan, whose powerful club yielded only two regular season victories to Boston while walloping them 10 times in 14 tries, singled out goalie Jim Henry as the Bruin who hurt the Wings most.

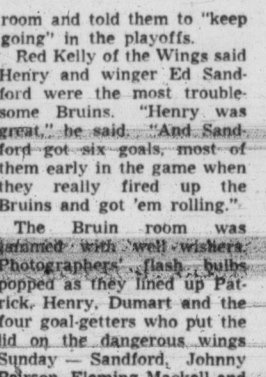

"Some people said we were tired, but that's crazy," said Ivan after he shook hands all around in the Bruins

Seats for Coronation Selling Cheap: £26

LONDON (Reuters)—Choice seats for the Coronation procession next June now are selling for as low as £16. The demand for tickets has suddenly backed up and agents have slashed prices for the best grandstand seats.

You now can get a seat in one of the bleachers not too far from Buckingham Palace for £26. That includes a first-class view of the whole mediaeval pageant, breakfast, a champagne lunch and tea.

Some of the £26 places are in store windows along the route. Some offer television, too, so you can follow Queen Elizabeth right into the inner sanctum in Westminster Abbey.

The £16 bargain seats definitely are not in the "orchestra" category. Some of them catch the procession from a bad angle. In others you have to look down at the top of the Queen's and other Royal heads from second or third-floor windows.

These "gallery" seats also carry no promise of champagne and such amenities, although the agents mention that there will be "refreshments." That could mean just tea; a scone with a pat of margarine and, perhaps, a slice of veal and ham pie.

The reason for these cut-rate offers is that many Londoners simply could not pay the stiff prices, despite their great desire to be there June 2.

Further, the BBC got permission from the palace officials to let televisioners in on most of the intimate rites in the abbey—and this made many people feel they might get a better show on TV.

And then, England's climate is never predictable. The thousands in their finery in the stands might well sit for hours in a downpour.

Hawkers for seats on Oxford Street on the fringe of London's elite Mayfair district are still holding out for premium prices. You can get a store window seat there for £77, presumably garnished with a very old champagne befitting your station.

In Piccadilly it will cost from £35 to £52.

Even another price-cut is possible. The worried agents—holding hundreds of unsold tickets—have cut first-class £42 seats to a mere £27.

The seats on the Thames river embankment have been put in the "tourist class" range.

St. John's Anglicans Present Bible Story

The Biblical play, "Dream of Queen Esther," will be presented by St. John's Anglican Young People's Association April 13 and 14, at 8 p.m. in St. John's Parish Hall, Balmoral Road.

The play depicts a critical event in the history of the Jews, when they were in danger of being exterminated through the machinations of Haman, an influential but treacherous friend of King Ahasuerus.

In the dream scene, heroines of Jewish history appear to Esther and urge her, in the interests of her people, to acquiesce in the king's desire to make her his queen. In this exalted position Esther is able to foil the evil plans of Haman.

Stanley C. Hawkins will direct the play. In the cast will be Frances Farmer as Esther and Dick Pugh, Russell Smith, Roy MacDonald, Sheila Martin, Mary Putman, Beverley Noel, Beth Williams, Frances Murray, Pat Hocking, Robbie Hayton, Peggy Melville, Diane Roskelley, Jennie-mae Sawyer, Marjorie Noel, Alwynne Creasey, Carol Crom-

Washington Congressmen Score 'Weakening' of Alaska Defenses

WASHINGTON (AP)—The three Democratic members of the Washington Congressional delegation have criticized the Eisenhower administration for what they described as an apparent program to weaken defenses of the Pacific Northwest and Alaska.

Senators Warren G. Magnuson and Henry M. Jackson, and representative-at-large Don Magnuson said in a joint statement:

"The new administration apparently has embarked on a program toward progressive disarmament of the Pacific Northwest and Alaska, the areas of the United States closest to our only potentially aggressive enemy.

The new administration, they said, is making these moves to disarm us:

"Secretary of the Navy R. B. Anderson has announced decision to reduce the naval air station at Seattle to the status of a reserve station. . . .

"The department of the army has ordered closure of Fort Worden, guarding Admiralty Inlet and the approaches to Puget Sound and of Camp Flagler, which supports Fort Worden.

FREE BOOK ON ARTHRITIS AND RHEUMATISM

Excelsior Springs, Mo., successful has a specialized system proven for treating rheumatism and arthritis that an amazing new book will be sent free to any reader of this paper who will write for it. For those who suffer with aches, pains, stiff or sore joints, nervousness, over acidity, systemic toxemia, colitis, or other rheumatic symptoms, this book entitled, "Rheumatism," fully explains why drugs and medicines give only temporary relief and fail to remove the causes of the trouble. The Ball Clinic, Excelsior Springs, Missouri, has perfected a specialized system of treatment for rheumatism and arthritis combined with the world famous mineral waters and baths. This system of treatment is fully described in the book and tells how it may be possible for you to find freedom from rheumatism.

Satisfied patients proclaim the modern methods outlined in this book:

"For over 5 years I suffered such intense pain it seemed unbearable. Was becoming deformed. Now I am practically straight and normal, age 40."

"Wisconsin man states, 'I had arthritis for years; was crippled and was barely able to walk—now am almost ladder and point.'"

"I was treated for chronic arthritis in 1936—now after 17 years I am still in good health and can go 16 hours a day without taking."

"Nebraska farmer reports, 'I suffered with arthritis for ten years. I got very good results from my treatment and recommend them wholeheartedly.'"

You incur no obligation in sending for this instructive book. It may be the means of saving you years of untold misery. For writing promptly, the Clinic will send their newly enlarged book entitled, "Rheumatism." Home gardening made easy, or, why does soil rhyme with toll?

The first step in planting your home garden is: get the boss to give you a week off.

Next, it is essential you budget your time carefully, so you will not waste any precious hours of your gardening holiday.

You might try the following simple schedule, which I have found successful in the past:

MONDAY: Devote this day to planning the garden. Gather up all the seed catalogues in the house, select a sharp pencil and a large sheet of paper, and make a rough sketch of the outline of your garden-to-be.

Browse through the seed catalogues, jotting down the names of your favorite plants, and indicating on the garden sketch where they would do best.

(For the beginning gardener, I recommend Taraxacum officinale, on a carpet of Panicum Virgatum mixed with Agropyron Repens. Plants of the families Arenaria, Alsine, and Cerastium look well with this combination; so do any of the Carduaceae family.)

NOTE: It is essential this day of planning be spent in the sunshine, so you, as well as the garden, will benefit. A semi-reclining position in a deck chair, with the feet planted firmly on the lawn roller, is suggested. Do not close the eyes too frequently, especially when your wife is looking.

TUESDAY: Devote Tuesday to lining up garden tools. Your neighbors will be willing to assist you, especially if you happen to have a bottle of ice cold sarsaparilla with you when you go calling.

NOTE: Do not collect the tools at this stage. They will only clutter up the garden. Simply find out who has what, and make a note of where it can be borrowed when the time comes.

WEDNESDAY: Every gardener must know the type of soil with which he is to work. The beginner would be well advised to consult the more experienced gardeners among his neighbors, and ask their advice on what kind of soil he has.

One excellent method is to hold a panel discussion with the best gardening minds in the neighborhood. This is done by sitting in a circle on the lawn, taking small samples of the soil and running it through the fingers.

Some gardeners very this by using cribbage pegs to dig up the samples, and still others have found a use for the crib board.

NOTE: If you get a 29 hand, keep it a secret. The boss might not understand if he heard about it.

THURSDAY: This is the day of the Big Decision. What to plant? The neighbors have been so co-operative, it is only fair to ask their advice.

Invite them over to see your plans of the garden, and to give their opinions.

You will find you will have exactly as many opinions as there are neighbors.

It is easy to see that, no matter which neighbor's advice you follow, all the other neighbors will be offended.

Obviously, the only thing to do is, let the land lie fallow this year.

FRIDAY, SATURDAY, SUNDAY: After Thursday's momentous decision, you are entitled to take it easy the balance of the week.

Sacred Rivalry Keener

Saanich to See Nomination Race

A hot battle for the Saanich Social Credit nomination shaped up today as two more possible candidates emerged.

High Sacred officials said E. C. Warren, former Saanich reeve, and Rev. Percy Willis, 1092 Cloverdale Avenue, Shantymen's Mission official, are expected to seek the nomination.

Others who have been mentioned as probable candidates for the nomination are Councilors E. P. Cummins, Councilor Pat Bate, former councilor William C. Kersey, and R. J. Pring, president of the Saanich S.C. Association.

The association's nominating convention will be held Thursday in Lake Hill Hall.

Mr. Warren is a veteran of municipal affairs. He served seven terms as reeve during more than 16 years on the council.

Rev. Willis is reported to be a "reluctant candidate." He joined evangelical work in Winnipeg in 1920, and has been many years on Vancouver Island where he is well-known for his religious work.

As a member of the Shantymen's Mission Association he first traveled by Indian canoe and on foot. Later he got a boat named Messenger.

He has had two larger boats since then and visits isolated parts of the west and east coast.

No word has been heard from Archie Beverstein, Saanich Sacred candidate in the 1952 election.

Meanwhile, Saanich CCF Association will hold a nominating convention in Douglas Hall, 3300 block, Douglas Street, April 24, at 8 p.m.

Nomination of Frank Snowsell, the incumbent, is expected.

Arthur Ash, former Saanich Liberal M.L.A., already has been nominated to contest the seat June 9.

Progressive Conservatives haven't named a candidate yet.

Scot Skipper German Crew Man Liberian

The flag of the West African Negro Republic, Liberia, flies from the jackstaff of Ss. Centurion at Ogden Point today, but the darkest skins aboard are the sun-tans of mainly-blond seamen.

Centurion, like a sister ship which visited here earlier this year, is registered in the port of Monrovia, but it's unlikely she'll ever visit her port of registry.

She is owned by a British firm, skippered by a Scottish master, and her officers and crew are British and German.

To complete the international picture, Centurion was once registered in South Africa.

She's a Liberty-type, built in California in 1943, and first operated by the U.S. Maritime Commission during the Second World War. She was launched as Ss. James B. Hickock, later purchased by Northern Steamship Co. Capetown, and re-christened President Pretorius.

A third ship of Liberian registry is expected in about three weeks.

Master of Centurion is Capt. Duncan Campbell, and Southern Star Shipping Co. Inc., are operators. King Bros. Ltd. are agents in Victoria.

The Optimist's show, usually held in March, features the work of YMCA hobbyists as well as work done by boys who attend the Optimist Hobby Centre on Fairfield Road.

This year one big show is planned to coincide with the usual fair exhibition. Emphasis will be on animated displays with home craftsmen completing their masterpieces under the public gaze, according to fair officials.

The fair will be held at the Memorial Arena and the Victoria Curling Rink, May 4 to 9.

Group Head Blasts Sacred Latecomers

Saanich Association Leader Labels New Recruits, 'Bandwagon Riders'

A Saanich Social Credit official, who has been working for the movement since "before the last war," today blasted the "bandwagon riders" who are trying to grab off Sacred nominations in Greater Victoria.

Lionel Speller, president of the Gorge group of the Saanich SC Association, singled out Victoria's Mayor Claude Harrison, Ald. Brent Murdoch, Saanich Councilor Pat Bate, and former Saanich councilor, William Kersey.

"We have good candidate material in Social Credit people who have been working for Social Credit for years. We don't need these Johnny-come-latelys," said Mr. Speller.

Other Sacred officials "stepped up" with the attitude of Mayor Harrison and Ald. Murdoch.

"ULTIMATUM"

"He's delivering an ultimatum, that's all he's doing. He's saying, in effect, 'either you name me a candidate for one of the city seats or I won't join your party.'"

"We in Social Credit don't want those sorts of candidates," Mr. Speller said.

The president, dealing with Ald. Murdoch's recent move to support Mayor Harrison for a Sacred nomination, said the alderman only took out a membership card a week ago.

He continued: "Mayor Harrison and Ald. Murdoch are violating one of the main principles of Social Credit—fair treatment to all and special privileges to none."

"So for this one reason Social Crediters could not support or be interested in this move by the mayor and the alderman."

BLUNT WARNING

"We in Social Credit want good, clean, honest government. We can't tolerate this sort of manoeuvring."

Premier Bennett stated clearly patronage is dead in B.C., and I'm sure he'll not permit the alderman and the mayor to kindle the flame of patronage. That's what they're trying so hard to do.

"The premier joined Social Credit some months before his constituency nominated him."

"If Mayor Harrison had the courage of his convictions he'd have done likewise."

"The mayor and the alderman ought to hide their faces in shame."

Mr. Speller ridiculed the so-called "draft Harrison" movement.

"The only draft the mayor will feel is the one everyone feels when they sit between two open doors."

CAUGHT COLD

"Mayor Harrison and Ald. Murdoch are sitting in this type of draft—whether they realize it or not they have caught their political deaths-cold."

"And now Mr. Kersey is looking for the Sacred nomination in Saanich," Mr. Speller continued. "Social Crediters in Saanich never saw anything of him before now."

The official criticized certain new Sacred, "such as W. A. Scott" for making "unauthorized, irresponsible statements to the newspapers."

These men who suddenly have discovered they are Sacred "should prove themselves before they try to get nominations," said Mr. Speller.

"They shouldn't be trying to shove out the fellows who have worked hard for the movement. There are plenty of good men among those who have been in the party for a long time."

"But these old-timers don't make as much noise as the so-called bandwagon riders," Mr. Speller said.

He said Social Credit is a Christian movement, but it isn't full of "religious fanatics."

"We stand for a good honest policy. We don't want all these politics mixed up in it," Mr. Speller said.

Church Theft Foiled When Pastor Enters

Burglar Surprised In Search for Loot

A burglar escaped empty-handed when he was disturbed by the pastor while rifling a church in one of two Easter week-end break-ins in Victoria, police reported.

However, thieves stole $40 worth of cigarettes and $7 in pennies and nickels from a grocery store owned by A. S. Haywood at 810 Catherine.

Rev. Douglas B. Carr of Centennial Church, Gorge Road, found a man rifling his office at the rear of the church when he arrived at 8:30 a.m. Sunday.

When the thief saw Rev. Carr through the window he ran through the church and out the front door. The pastor said nothing apparently was missing.

Rev. Carr provided police with a description of the man. The grocery store was entered by forcing apart two steel bars on a window and squeezing through, police said. Entry to the office of the church was made by breaking the lock on the door.

Car Wrecked in Mill Bay Crash

Five Victorians suffered minor injuries but their car was totally wrecked at 3 p.m. Sunday in a collision on the Island Highway near Mill Bay cutoff.

RCMP said the Victorians were in a car driven by Wilfred Knapp. He and his wife, their daughter-in-law, Mrs. G. Knapp, her son, Eugene, and Charles N. Rhodes, were treated at St. Joseph's Hospital for cuts and bruises. All live at 332 Moss.

Police said the collision occurred at a time when snow and rain made the highway surface treacherous.

Name of the driver and only occupant of the other car was not available.

City police reported a few accidents in which moderate damage was done.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Black Diamond Baseman's
Mitt Every Boy's Dream

By PENNY SAVER

Everything I learn about baseball I learn from my little brother, and boy! Is he keen! His latest acquisition is a Black Diamond baseball mitt, called "The Groundhog," with hand-molded pocket and hinged pad. This beautiful hunk of glove is priced at $12.95 and my little brother was really swinging at a wild pitch that time.

Still, all things are possible and I now hear that the "Louisville Slugger" is a good hard ball bat, so are Batrite and Wilson. Prices on these range from $1.80 to $4.85. It is nice to know he already has a Spalding baseball, Junior League, $1.25. These official baseballs are also available at $1.60, $1.85 and $2.40.

A softball bat, official tournament, costs $2.50 and a softball can be had for 79 cents.

Here's another thing any outdoor boy would like—a Bush King sleeping bag in forest green, lined with scarlet. These are all wool, full-sized and weigh 11 pounds. Price is $11.95.

A neat bantamlike pocket flashlight shaped like a pocket lighter, with automatic finger action, costs $1.25. Flip it up and it lights—in ruby, green or blue case.

Guess what the big boys are wearing! There they were in full view in a downtown men's shop—just took time to notice they were Arrow sanforized men's slacks, white with red devils all over them, at $2.25, before averting my eyes. A second peep disclosed another pair with a scarlet jacketed bushy-tailed wolf, complete with bouquet of flowers and top hat, sitting all over them, and a last-over-the-shoulder glance showed another pair of these tailored shorts sporting a design of navy blue boxing gloves, dangling from RED RIBBONS. Excuse me! I simply can't go on.

Have you ever visited this "Store of Three Wonders?" On the sign it says: 1. You wonder if I have it. 2. I wonder where it is. 3. Everybody wonders how I find it. There is another sign, that says they sell new and used goods, antiques, curios and used radios.

Ever since I went berserk in that garden shop, I keep finding new notes. This one deals with the Evergreen Saturator, a long canvas hose, gaily patterned, that soaks soil thoroughly. Twelve inches cost $1.89; 18 inches, $2.49; 30 inches, $4.99; 50 inches, $6.19. Unexcelled for watering roses and shrubs without damaging blooms, soak lawns or vegetable gardens. There is an irrigation time chart which comes with it.

Alimony Clerk's Duty
Is Checking Payments

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, Ph.D.

A woman with young children is often at the mercy of the man who has divorced her for another woman. We have laws to protect such women and their children but few realize this. Here is a case in point:

(Q) "My husband divorced me to marry another woman. I have two young children. I was getting alimony until four months ago and then my husband just quit sending it, why, I don't know. He has never sent the amount he was supposed to send. I have asked the alimony clerk to help me but he says he can't do anything. I just can't understand why the court can't get my husband and make him pay. I can't work as I have no one to leave the children with and I have no money. I suppose if I had money to pay this alimony clerk he would go right after my husband and make him pay, but I haven't enough money to buy food for my children. What can I do?"

(A) Go to your clergyman at once, tell him the whole story, and ask him to go to court with your case. The court granted you custody of the children and fixed the amount your husband was supposed to pay you. It stipulated that the money was to be sent to the alimony clerk so he could see to it that you got it.

It is the responsibility of the court to see that the money is paid on time. So long as your husband remains in the United States, even his living in another state does not free him from his obligation. The law functions in all the states and your husband is bound by it wherever he is.

The alimony clerk has been very lax. He should have checked long ago to find out why the money was not sent. It should not be necessary to "bribe" an alimony clerk to fulfill his duty.

If you have a personal problem, write Elizabeth Hurlock in care of this newspaper.

TOMATO RAREBIT

It's red magic—this crimson, creamy tomato rarebit! It's one of those abracadabra-and-it's-done dishes that's perfect for expected dinner guests. The ingredients are kitchen staples: process sharp cheese, prepared mustard and a can of condensed cream of tomato soup.

The cream of tomato soup, of course, is the secret of both the rarebit's fine flavor and its satin-smooth texture. Because as it comes from the can, it is such a beautiful blend of red-ripe tomatoes and thick, rich cream, you can't help but turn out a beautiful rarebit.

One 10-ounce can condensed cream of tomato soup, undiluted; ¼ pound (1 cup) grated process sharp cheese; ½ teaspoon prepared mustard.

Combine soup and cheese in top of double boiler. Heat, stirring occasionally, until cheese is melted and mixture is smooth. Add mustard; blend well. Serve over toast or crackers. Makes six servings.

Prepare your rarebit in a double boiler or, if you're lucky enough to have one—in the chafing dish like the one pictured above.

A tossed salad with French dressing goes well with rarebit. So does broccoli or asparagus spears.

'Change of Life Made Me
Scream at My Husband'

writes Mrs. A. W., New York, N.Y.

"Now I don't suffer from hot flashes and nervousness—just me," she adds. "If you, too, are suffering from the irritable, restless feelings and hot flashes of change of life—listen! In tests by our noted doctors Lydia Pinkham's Compound and Tablets stopped my crazy-irritable, hot flashes, nervousness, and all the distressing changes in my body."

Yea! Research has proved these medicines thoroughly modern in the relief they give from those nervous, "out of sorts" feelings of mid-life "change."

Get Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound or new Tablets with added iron! (Grand, too, for the functional pains of monthly menstrual periods.)

It acts through sympathetic nervous system to relieve distress of "hot waves!"

Want to Take Off Pounds?
Start Nine-Day Diet Today

These Nine-Day Diet menus have been planned so that the woman eating away from home at lunch time will be able to find the right food.

If necessary, be rude for nine days while you lose from five to 10 pounds; that is, if you need to lose weight. Usually I suggest to my readers that they should not talk about it when they are reducing, but you can afford to be a bore for just nine short days.

It is very difficult when you go out for dinner or luncheon to turn down the wonderful food your hostess has planned for you. When you entertain it is almost impossible to pass up some of the foods you offer others without making them feel like gluttons. However, when you are using a short rapid reducing diet you must stick to it in order to achieve the results you want.

A week is no time at all and yet you can be from five to 10 pounds lighter in just nine days' time if you will be faithful in your use of my nine-day reducing diet. I have tried to plan it so that those women who eat away from home at lunch time will be able to find the foods. There is also a list of substitute foods.

Tuesday's Menu
BREAKFAST
Half grapefruit
One thin dry piece of whole wheat toast
Coffee
LUNCHEON
Green salad with lemon or reducing dressing
One slice lamb roast (don't eat the fat)
One glass skimmed milk
One thin dry piece of whole wheat toast
MID-AFTERNOON
Glass of tomato juice
DINNER
One piece of lean meat, steak or roast (five or six ounces)
One-half cup squash (yellow preferable)
One-half cup string beans
One glass skimmed milk
One apple

If you would like to have my nine-day reducing diet booklet send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Net-Misted White Satin
Chosen by Saturday Bride

Escorted by her father and carrying a prayer book topped with miniature American Beauty roses, Jean Elinor Robertson was a striking picture in gleaming white satin misted with two layers of nylon net, as she entered Oak Bay United Church Saturday evening for her marriage to Richard Allen Bedford Prette.

Rev. W. W. McPherson performed the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Robertson, 1333 Foul Bay Road, and the son of Mr. R. Prette, MBE, and Mrs. Prette, 2509 Government Street. Baskets of blue, pink, pink snapdragons and white carnations and standard candelabrum flanked the altar. Organ music was played by Miss Joan Creighton and John Boules sang "I'll Walk Beside You."

The bride's gown was a strapless model, worn with a French lace redingote, made slightly en train and featuring a stand-up collar and lily-point sleeves. Her finger-tip veil was of nylon net, caught to her head with a satin band sprayed with lily of the valley and having pompons of feathered carnations on either side.

Three senior attendants wore identical dresses of nylon net over taffeta, with tiny net capes edged with daisies over the strapless bodices.

Miss Maureen Weir, maid of honor, was in mauve, Miss Ann Robertson, sister of the bride, in blue, and Miss Ann Prette, sister of the groom, in pink.

With Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lacey and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Newton were Mr. and Mrs. James Murdoch of Montreal and Mrs. McGuire, Vancouver.

Decorations around the spacious dance floor were in the holiday motif with baskets of daffodils, bright red tulips and wild Easter lilies.

Langford Notes

Mrs. B. Le Quesne, Granum, Alta., with her two sons, and Mr. Bert Le Quesne, Comox, have spent Easter week-end visiting friends and relatives in Victoria and Langford.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Charnell and little daughter, Susan, who have been spending a few days in Langford, as guests of Mrs. Charnell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Rodgers, have now returned to their home at Port Alberni.

Mr. and Mrs. Alstair Massie, Trail, have spent a few days on Vancouver Island visiting Mr. and Mrs. Massie, Island Highway. They also visited relations in Duncan.

Mr. Norton Welch, who has a teaching post at Creston, is spending the Easter vacation at his home, Island Highway.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Williamson, Park Avenue, Langford, have as a guest their seven-year-old grandson, Glen Williamson, who flew from Vancouver to spend the Easter vacation.

Miss Carol Winkill, Ladner, and Mr. Richard Gilbert, students at the University of B.C., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Bayles, Island Highway, for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. David Lister and their three children have left Langford and will make their future home in Seattle.

Foretells a First of May Wedding Day

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Fleming, West Summerland, B.C., announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Dorothy, to Gordon E. Nickells, son of Dr. and Mrs. B. E. Nickells, Victoria, B.C. The wedding will take place on May 2, at 2 o'clock, in Oak Bay United Church.

Miss Fleming has chosen her sister Nancy as maid of honor, with Mrs. R. G. Nickells and Miss Marijane Cahill as bridesmaids. Mr. Nickells will have his brother, Mr. R. G. Nickells, as best man. (Photo by Goertz.)

Sydnie Claire Vigar Wed In Easter Floral Setting

An attractive Saturday evening ceremony marked the union of Sydnie Claire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Vigar, Clovelly Terrace, and Charles Stevens, Bonner, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Kirkpatrick, Cadboro Bay Road. Easter lilies and seasonal bloom adorned St. Luke's Anglican Church, and

Rev. Roy Melville performed the service. During signing of the register, John Dunbar sang "O Perfect Love." Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride was a picture in a floor-length gown of imported Chantilly lace over white satin and tulle, fashioned with sweetheart neckline, lily-point sleeves and bouffant skirt. Her chapel veil fell from a coronet of seed pearls and she wore the pearls which her mother had worn on her wedding day. White lilies formed her arm bouquet.

OF PERSONAL INTEREST

Among out-of-town guests who attended the Saturday evening wedding of Miss Carol Richards to Mr. Clifford W. Salmond were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Taylor and David, Vancouver; Miss Bernice Entnor, Miss Lois Simple and Messrs. Bernard Hawkes, Walter Gillespie and Reginald Pridham, all of Nanaimo.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding Saturday of Sydnie Vigar and Charles Bonner were Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Vogel, Langley Prairie, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Emery and two children, Mr. Richard Vogel, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. George Webber, Mr. and Mrs. L. Hornstein, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Beck, Seattle, and Mrs. C. Jernberg, Calgary.

A kitchen shower in honor of Miss Florence Hitch, April bride-elect, was given recently by Mrs. J. A. Shirreff at the home of Mrs. J. McGreggor, 2587 Graham Street. A corsage of pale pink rosebuds was presented to the guest of honor, while her mother, Mrs. W. V. Hitch, and the groom's mother, Mrs. J. McGreggor, both received corsages of pink carnations. Those present were: Mesdames Appleby, M. Crockett, H. Bardsley, L. Herbert, W. Cooknell, L. Welsh, H. Lane, McIvor, A. P. Rodgers, D. Mills, Ryalls, Misses Belle Luscombe, F. Rodgers, E. Shoppey, Doreen Shirreff and Barbara Shirreff.

Tiny youngsters Misses Beverly and Janet Webb presented gifts to Miss Lillian Hehn at a recent shower given by their mother, Mrs. Jack Webb, 963 Cloverdale Avenue. The bride-elect occupied the place of honor, which was decked with orange and green ruffled bows. The gift basket was decorated in the same colors. An orange and white shower cake centred the attractive buffet table. Invited guests were Mrs. H. Hehn, Mrs. L. J. Brine, mother of the groom-elect; Mrs. L. Coles, Mrs. H. Dash, Mrs. A. Hunstun, Mrs. G. Hill, Mrs. D. Barker, Mrs. A. Lindsey and Misses Rita Hehn and Marilyn Hill.

Salmond-Richards Wedding Held In Central Baptist on Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford W. Salmond left on a honeymoon trip to the United States following their wedding, Saturday, which was solemnized by Dr. J. B. Rowell in Central Baptist Church. The former Shirley Carol Richards is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Richards, 3230 Browning Street, and her groom is the son of William Salmond, Courtenay and Mrs. N. Salmond, Victoria.

Baskets of mauve and yellow spring flowers were at the altar and nosegays tied with white satin ribbon marked guest presents for the wedding.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of lace and satin. Lace formed the bodice and cascaded in peplums over the heavy satin skirt. An orange blossom tiara held her delicate shoulder-length veil. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white feathered carnations. A pearl necklace and earring set completed her ensemble.

Mrs. J. Danielson, matron of honor, Mrs. K. Richards, bride's matron, and Miss Sylvia Inkpen, bridesmaid, chose identical gowns of flowered white nylon over full-skirted taffeta. Mrs. Danielson wore turquoise, Mrs. Richards yellow, and Miss Inkpen mauve. Their shoulder-length veils were held by harmonizing headresses of small flowers.

Flower girl Miss Joan Salmond, was gown in dainty pink, styled similarly to the other attendants. Best man was Ivor Salmond, brother of the groom, and ushering were K. Richards, J. Danielson, D. Dicker and H. Roth.

Following the wedding service Mrs. J. Danielson, sister of the bride, accompanied by Miss Phyllis Hick, sang the "Wedding Prayer."

For a reception in the church hall, the bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake embedded in pink tulle and topped with pink roses. A miniature bride and attendants decorated the receiving table. S. Hinde proposed the toast to the bride.

For her honeymoon Mrs. Salmond donned a suit of Ancient Hunting McIntyre in miniature tartan. A blue topcoat and white accessories completed her going-away outfit.

Upon return, Mr. and Mrs. Salmond will make their home on Townley Avenue, Victoria.

Chinese Hospital Receives Donations

A wheel chair for the hospital and a pair of new pajamas for each of 19 patients were presented Sunday to Chinese Hospital, 555 Herald Street, by the Young People's Group and Women's Mission Society of Chinese United Church.

Presentation was made through Dr. J. L. Gayton, superintendent of the hospital. The groups were thanked by Dr. Gayton and Rev. Moi Fong Leung, chairman of the hospital board.

Funds for the donation were raised by a recent tea held under joint sponsorship of the two church groups.

Monthly meeting of baby clinic and child conference usually held at Langford on second Thursday of month will not be held until May.

Wedding Postponed

The wedding of Miss Barbara Hatcher and Mr. Kenneth Kightly, which was to take place on April 25 in St. Alban's Church, has been postponed until May 16 in St. Alban's Church, owing to a bereavement in the groom-elect's family.

Woman's Auxiliary to Cosmopolitan Club, sewing meeting, at home of the president, Mrs. Isobel Dahl, 610 Linden Avenue, Tuesday at 8.

Burns' Sales Set Record

CALGARY (CP) — The highest peacetime income in the history of Burns and Co. Ltd. is disclosed in the annual report for 1952 released today by R. J. Dinning, president.

The record is attributed to the increased output through Canadian packing plants during the United States embargo on livestock after the foot-and-mouth outbreak in February, 1952.

Mr. Dinning said the 1952 tax income increased 25 per cent over the previous year with a profit of $634,435 from packing plant operations, equivalent to 57 cents on each $100 of sales. The overall total profit with dividend from subsidiaries increased from $690,094 to $838,198.

Although the average drop in meat prices was lower in value by $2,000,000, the sales mark of Burns organization, including its two associate companies, Palm Dairies Ltd., and Consolidated Fruit Company Ltd., reached a record of $162,000,000, an increase of $4,000,000 on the previous year.

NEW YORK (CP) — The Canadian dollar was 1 1/2 cent higher, at a premium of 1 1/2-1 3/4 per cent in terms of U.S. funds today. Pound sterling unchanged at $2.81 1/2.

N.Y. Prices Fall One to Four Points

NEW YORK (AP) — Severe selling pressure sent the stock market down sharply today with all major divisions involved in the fall.

The retreat extended to between one and four points at the worst with a few high-priced issues falling more. There were few important plus signs in the list.

The market was faced today with continued smooth going in the Korean prisoner-of-war exchange, which touched off selling a week ago.

All Canadian issues on the big board were down. They were Canadian Pacific, off 1/2, Dome Mines 1/2, International Nickel 1 1/2, McIntyre 1/2, and Distillers 1/2.

Canadian shares on the American stock exchange also were lower, except Lake Shore, which moved up the minimum fraction. Giant Yellowknife was down 1/2 and Royalty was off 1/2.

Lower were such issues as Boeing, Republic Steel, Studebaker, Goodrich, Radio Corp., Consolidated Natural Gas, American Smelting, Du Pont and Gulf Oil.

GRAIN WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG (CP) — Trade was irregular and prices generally closed lower in dull trade today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Overseas interest was lacking due to the Easter Monday holiday.

Wheat was sharply lower on a selling influence by declines on American markets, prompted by reports of heavy rains in the winter wheat belt.

Commercial demand was limited in other grains, with oats and barley receiving minor domestic orders. Flax attracted some interest, but the offerings generally outweighed the demand.

Price for the top grades of Class 2 wheat were down 1 cent from Thursday. The top grades of Class 1 wheat were down 1/2 cent.

CREDIT BUYING IN CANADA SOARS TO ALL-TIME HIGH

BY VICTOR J. MACKIE

Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA — Installment sales during the 12 months of last year soared to an all-time high of $1,253,000,000, according to preliminary statistics prepared by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Prior to 1947 the bureau calculated consumer credit on an index basis. However, for comparative purposes it has estimated in dollars the total installment sales in 1941, the second year of the war, at $304,700,000.

The total installment sales during last year therefore were more than four times greater than total installment sales during 1941. However, each year of the war saw the amount of sales made by installment buying on the increase, according to the bureau's index figures.

In 1948 when the DBS began keeping accurate track of the installment-buying curve in dollars it recorded a total for all trades of $411,900,000. By the end of 1949, the total sales on installment had mounted to $515,000,000 for that year.

In 1950 it totalled $720,100,000 and in 1951 it had climbed to $816,200,000. The year 1952 saw the reversion of credit controls, on May 6. Credit sales of all trades in the country rose to new high levels in the second quarter (April, May, June), but they followed a more normal seasonal pattern for the last two quarters (July to December inclusive).

The second quarter, April to June, saw installment sales total $368,300,000, the highest total for the year, possibly due to the number of people making new installment purchases once the credit controls were entirely removed.

In the first quarter of 1952 the total installment sales were $209,100,000. In the third quarter they totalled $334,200,000 and in the final quarter of 1952 the total was $341,400,000. The statistics for the final quarter of 1952 were just issued this month. The total for that quarter is the highest level ever attained in the fourth quarter of any year for such sales in Canada. It is to be noted however that it was under the record level of $368,300,000 reached in the second quarter of that year.

In comparison cash and charge sales for the last quarter of 1952 reached new high levels of $2,144,700,000 and $634,900,000 respectively. Cash sales in the final quarter of 1952 rose 5.6 per cent compared with the total of $2,030,800,000 in the final quarter of 1951. The increases were common to most trades. The largest gain—$19,100,000—occurred in the motor vehicle trade, while radio and appliance stores showed the highest percentage increase of 25.3 per cent.

Installment sales in the final three months of 1952 rose by 67 per cent compared with the $204,000,000 in the same period of 1951.

Increases were recorded for all trades extending this form of credit. Hardware stores had the largest percentage increase, but since installment sales comprise only 6 per cent of total sales in this trade the increase has little significance, according to the bureau of statistics.

Department store and motor vehicle dealers' installment sales showed increases of $32,100,000 and $49,700,000 and exceeded the previous year's corresponding figures by 128.9 per cent and 47.6 per cent, respectively.

Charles sales advanced 6.6 per cent to the total of $634,900,000 compared with $595,800,000 in the fourth quarter of 1951. Small declines occurred in only four of the 13 kinds of businesses checked. Motor vehicle dealers, department stores and men's clothing stores accounted for sales declines of 1.0 per cent, 1.0 per cent and 1.0 per cent, respectively.

Sales Increase But Income Down

Substantial increase in roofing division sales is reported by Sidney Roofing & Paper Co. Ltd.

But the higher roofing sales were offset by declining demand for the products of the paperboard and paper box subsidiaries of the company, the firm's annual report says.

Net income for 1952 was reported at $200,420 after taxes, compared with a net income of $235,162 in 1951.

The company paid its regular quarterly dividends of 90 cents a share.

In his report to shareholders, J. A. Craig, vice-president and general manager, said the outlook appeared more favorable for the company than it did at this time last year.

He predicted increased building activity in British Columbia and the Prairies and said that demand had increased for the company's paper products.

Independent stores did 75 per cent of all retail business in Canada in 1951.

THE DOCTOR SAYS
By EDWIN JORDAN, MD

Operations Generally Succeed With Cases of Hiatus Hernia

A particularly interesting subject is brought up in today's first letter.

Q.—Please discuss hiatus hernia. Will it eventually take my sister's life? Mrs. J.L.

A.—Readers of this column already know that ruptures or hernias are most likely to occur in places where the muscular wall, which is supposed to keep certain organs in place, is particularly weak. One such place is in the muscular diaphragm, which separates the chest from the abdomen at the point where the digestive tract—in this instance the esophagus—passes through the diaphragm. Rupture, when it occurs here, is called hiatus hernia.

Hiatus hernia is most common as in unborn or congenital affliction or as the result of injury. Its symptoms vary but may closely resemble those of an ulcer of the stomach. Some physicians recommend that in mild cases it be treated medically, but general surgery is the best form of treatment, as it is for most other ruptures. It is generally a highly successful operation, the condition should not take the life of Mrs. L.'s sister, providing she has proper treatment.

Q.—I was under the impression that Sprue was curable. Has some vitamin been found to help this condition? H.S.

A.—Sprue is likely to be a really is perfect the chances are chronic, may be a recurring di-... mal protein and vitamins, and low in fats and starches. Fre-quently liver extract or vitamin B-12 are given by injection, and another vitamin-like substance known as folic acid may also be given by injection or by mouth. The disease is fortunately rather rare in North America.

Q.—I have trouble keeping my legs still. It bothers me and keeps me awake nights. Would you discuss this? Mrs. C.R.

A.—This condition could be what has been called "restless legs." According to published reports in the Journal of the American Medical Association, the most characteristic sym-ptoms are a feeling of weakness in the legs and a sensation of cold in the feet. Disturbance of sleep is common.

For relief, people move their feet continually or get up and more about. Massage has no effect. The unpleasant sensa-tions appear only when the per-son is at rest, as in sleep or at the movies. The cause or causes is not understood. There is some reason to believe that the cause is in the nervous system, and other reasons to suggest circulatory disturbances.

Q.—My three-year-old son can not say a word, though his hear-ing is perfect and he under-stands everything that is said to him. Please advise. Mar-garet.

A.—If the child's hearing is perfect and he under-stands everything that he wanted, he would talk if he wanted. Probably he will start sud-treatment that brings about a deny and jabber away like any-cure promptly in all cases, thing. If he does not start soon. Treatment is variable from per-son to person but ordinarily con-taken up with the child's pe-dists of a good diet, rich in ani-trician.

Douglas Attacks Regina Paper's 'Biased' Headline

REGINA (CP)—Premier Douglas said Thursday that a headline in the Regina Leader-Post dealing with the proceed-ings of the Saskatchewan leg-islature's crown corporations committee was "biased report-ing" and a "flagrant" abuse of the freedom of the press.

The committee is investigat-ing alleged corruption in the government insurance office. The committee has had under examination Philip Bodnoff, former president of a Regina insurance firm alleged to have paid "kickbacks" to govern-ment officials.

Premier Douglas referred to a banner headline in the Thurs-day evening edition of the Leader-Post which read: "Bodnoff Admits Errors in Min-utes." Mr. Douglas said it af-fected the privilege of the en-tire committee. He added that he had hesitated to bring up the matter because the reports had in the main been fair.

Liberal leader Walter Tucker said he thought the press had learned over backward to be fair to everyone. It had re-peatedly stated that the charges had been denied, Mr. Tucker said.

DEAD TRAPPER
KAPUSKASING, Ont. (CP)—Provincial police found the body of Konradt Yaneko, 71-year-old Russian trapper who lived alone, in his cabin north of Lost River. Death was at-tributed to heart failure.

"Suspense" moves from Hollywood to New York for one night only tonight in order to present a special documentary broadcast, starring Van Johnson, from the Grand Ballroom of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel.
The half-hour thriller, dramatizing the historic 1908 "Race Around the World" by cars representing four nations, will be presented before crowds attending the 1933 Easter Parade of Stars Automobile Show at the Waldorf. It will be heard on KIRO at 9.
Van Johnson will portray one of the drivers of the 1908 "Thomas Flyer," an American driver car no different from others in dealers' display rooms, which defeated five foreign cars especially built for the gruelling race.
The international race started in New York,
continued across the United States, Japan,

Kiddies to Ride Midway Mounts

Enlarged B.C. Products Fair
Features High-Wire Acrobats

Children will find greater delight in the 1953 B.C. Products Fair here this year... there will be novelty carnival rides on hand especially for them.

Junior Chamber of Commerce officials reported today merry-go-rounds and other like attractions for the small fry have been rented. They will be operated by the jaycees themselves.

Adults will gaze along with the kiddies at a free highwire act, "Aerial Charltons" which has been engaged for the week-long show, May 4 to 9. The midway will be crowded with the youngsters' attractions, between the Memorial Arena and the Curling Rink. The aerial artists will perform in the arena.

A trampoline act will also be performed by the Charltons, in the curling rink. The act comes here direct from the Shrine Circus in Portland.

QUEEN CONTEST
Although only two beauty queen contestants have been so far announced, at least 18 additional applications from local charmers are at hand. The contestants will appear twice daily in both buildings.

A fashion show, featuring members of the Solari Junior League as models will also be a twice-daily attraction. Movies of Indianapolis Speedway car racing will be an innovation this year and an actual racer has been obtained for display outside the theatre. The trend to active displays has been extended to the greatly enlarged hobby show, where a loom in operation will be seen.

MARINE DISPLAY
Booths presented by local manufacturers and merchants will be more numerous, with a marine display added. An agricultural show will feature, among other sights, a judging contest by rabbit breeders of some 200 bunnies.

A layout for a modern home is also expected to create much interest. There will be door prizes announced every hour with a special prize of a new car and a second special prize of a TV set announced on the final evening. The recorded maximum shade temperature is 136 degrees in Tripoli in North Africa in 1922.

AFL, CIL Get Ready for Merger Try

WASHINGTON (AP)—The AFL and CIO are getting ready for another try at negotiating a merger, but leaders of both groups feel the odds are against success.

Several prior efforts to combine the two big labor federations have collapsed in the face of bitter rivalries and conflicting views, and most of these differences remain unresolved. But a team of top American Federation of Labor officials, headed by president George Meany, is ready to get together here Tuesday with top officials of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, led by president Walter Reuther.

It will be the first time the unity talks have been steered by the new labor chiefs. Meany and Reuther have held their top jobs in the labor groups only a few months. They were elected presidents last fall on the deaths of AFL president William Green and CIO chief Philip Murray.

New unity talks were the first proposal made by Meany after taking the AFL's helm. END CO-EDUCATION
GRIMSBY, Eng. (CP)—After 53 years, co-education is ending at the Winttingham Grammar School. Headmaster Ronald Gill said "I am convinced the differences between boys and girls mentally and emotionally are such that they are better educated separately."

Helps You Overcome Itching of Piles Or Money Back

You do not have to be tortured and embarrassed by the itching soreness and burning pain of piles any longer. Here is real help for you! Get a package of Hem-Roid, an internal pile treatment, at any drug store and use as directed. You will be pleased at how quickly your pile trouble is relieved. Only $1.50 for the big 60-tablet package. If you are not 100% pleased after using Hem-Roid two or three days, as a test, ask for your money back. Refund agreement by all drug stores.

GIRL SURVIVES 300-FOOT FALL DOWN SIDE OF BURNABY CANYON

BURNABY, B.C. (CP)—A 17-year-old girl survived a 300-foot tumble down a cliff Sunday while hiking along the top of Burnaby canyon.

Norma Wright lost her footing while climbing down the steep cliff but suffered only a fractured leg in the fall. A companion, Susan Blitzen, 16, worked her way down to Norma's side and then scaled the cliff to bring help. The injured girl was hauled up on a basket stretcher by firemen and RCMP.

Indians Join Fruitless Search for Lost Baby

DUNCAN—Indians and volunteer firemen Sunday joined RCMP directed searchers last week to the water's edge.

Men of the Duncan Volunteer Fire Department patrolled the whole length of the river from the spot where the boy is thought to have fallen, to the Ichan River, tottered out on a bridge on the Island Highway, rickety plank wharf and fallen Constable M. G. Low, in charge of operations, and R. light skiff, went downstream MacDougall, an experienced woodsman, searched either bank of the river, from the bridge to the log jam near Duncan's sewage disposal pumping plant. Indians searched below the log jam to the river's mouth in Cowichan Bay.

V. R. "Bucky" Kennett, in a light skiff, went downstream from the first point of search. The scores of searchers found no trace of the child in four hours of effort.

Ontario led all provinces in number of telephones per capita in 1951 with 29.1 per 100 persons.

SWEDEN CAPTAIN JAILED IN TURK SUB TRAGEDY

ISTANBUL (CP)—Turkish officials today jailed Capt. Oscar Lornstzon, skipper of a Swedish freighter which collided Saturday with the Turkish submarine Dumlupinar and sent it to the bottom of the Dardanelles, drowning 81 crew members.

Lornstzon denied that his 4,000-ton Naboland was to blame for the collision. He said the submarine had violated international navigational rules and he planned a court appeal for his release.

The Dumlupinar broke in two after colliding with the Naboland and sank in 228 feet of water.

Teachers to Discuss Grading Report Cards

VANCOUVER (BUP)—A resolution asking that children be given "A," "B," and "C" grades on their report cards is one of 83 expected to be dealt with at the 34th annual convention of the B.C. Teachers' Federation which opened today in Vancouver.

The resolution is sponsored by the South Okanagan Branch.

The subject of grading report cards is one of the thorniest to crop up in recent wide public discussion of the education curriculum. The practice of rating pupils against a class norm or in relation to their personal capabilities has been the target of critics who believe that competitive examinations and standings should be restored.

Education Minister Mrs. Tilly Rolsen will be one of the featured speakers, and is expected to discuss a report on possible federal aid in education costs. Election of officers will be held Wednesday.

Two resolutions calling for minor changes in curriculum course content will be presented to the convention by the Victoria delegation.

Laing Refuses Comment on Leadership Rumor

VANCOUVER (CP)—Arthur Laing is the silent man of the Liberal Party.

The member of parliament for Vancouver South, frequently mentioned as a candidate for the B.C. Liberal leadership, returned from Ottawa on Saturday.

But he declined to say whether he would stand for the post at the convention here April 8.

A leader will be chosen to succeed former premier Byron Johnson.

Mau Mau Band Trapped; Police Wipe Out 22

Government House
Servants Arrested

NAIROBI, Kenya—Kenya police have caught a band of Mau Mau terrorists in the act of attempting to massacre a village of Africans.

The police shot 22 of the terrorists and chased the rest into the jungle.

Sunday, six members of the staff of Government House were arrested as members of the Mau Mau terrorist organization, it was reported.

They were arrested after police screened the staff at the home of Governor Sir Evelyn Baring.

NEW PLAN
Shortly before, Baring announced a new plan designed to let government forces take the initiative in the fight against Mau Mau.

The plan calls for more well-equipped bases from which anti-Mau Mau operations can be conducted, and increased African participation and co-operation in the fight.

2 Dead, 13 Hurt In Vancouver Car Crashes

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two persons were killed, seven were injured and six others suffered less serious injuries in three Greater Vancouver week-end traffic accidents.

Mrs. Kay Ricci, 31, was killed in a two-car crash which injured six other members of her family.

William Watson, 87, was instantly killed when he was hit by a car while crossing an East End street.

In the Ricci crash nine of the 10 occupants of the two cars were hurled into the road. Six ambulances were called to take the injured to hospital.

The injured included Mrs. Ricci's husband, Michael, 32, and her four-year-old daughter, Constance.

'Unrecognized' Secord to Run As Independent

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP)—E. J. Brewster told a Social Credit League meeting here he will run as an "independent Social Credit candidate" in the June 9 election.

He was the unsuccessful Social Credit candidate in Nanaimo in the 1952 general election.

Brewster announced his candidacy after chairman K. F. Hodgson said he was "not recognized."

WIRE BRIEFS

Adenauer Arrives

NEW YORK (CP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany arrived today for a round of conferences with President Eisenhower and other U.S. government officials, to be followed by a visit to Ottawa.

Adenauer will visit Washington and a number of other cities before making a one-day visit to Ottawa for talks with Canadian government officials April 18.

U.K. Easter Bleak

LONDON (AP)—Snow and rain marred Easter Sunday in Britain, but transport officials said there was practically no delay at home anyway—50,000 persons had crossed the channel to spend the day in France.

MacKenzie Mentioned As NFB Commissioner

OTTAWA (CP)—Dr. Norman MacKenzie, president of the University of B.C., is among those prominently mentioned as commissioner of the National Film Board, to succeed W. Arthur Irwin, new Canadian high commissioner to Australia.

Irwin, former editor of Maclean's Magazine, leaves for his diplomatic post this summer.

The NFB job pays about $15,000 a year.

Two prominent Canadian writers have also been mentioned. They are Ralph Allen, who succeeded Irwin as editor of Maclean's, and Robert Elson, well-known newspaper man formerly with the Vancouver Province.

Moscow Names Man Who Faked Murders

Pravda Says Obscure Deputy Minister
To Blame in Case Against 15 Doctors

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda today put the finger on an obscure deputy minister of state security as the culprit who faked the murder case against 15 Russian doctors. It also blasted the security ministry's former chief for being taken in by the false evidence.

The Communist party organ said the culprit, identified as one Ryumin, was arrested. It charged the former minister of state security, S. Ignatiev, with "political blindness and gullibility" and denounced a commission of medical experts in the case for making "incorrect conclusions."

The prominent doctors, accused last January of plotting against Soviet leaders and having caused the deaths of two, were ordered freed Saturday in a surprise move by the new interior affairs ministry headed by Lavrenti Beria, first deputy premier in the Soviet government.

This was the first word the West had that Ignatiev had been security minister early this year. He was not further identified by Pravda, but it is possible that he is Semyon Ignatiev, recently elevated to one of the highest positions in the Soviet hierarchy—a seat on the five-man secretariat of the Communist party's powerful central committee. If such a ranking leader is under attack, a purge already may be stirring within the Kremlin.

The paper said a commission of medical experts "let it be influenced" by the fake evidence and "supported slanderous accusations against a number of outstanding leaders of medicine."

FELL DOWN ON JOB

The Pravda article declared that "leaders of the former ministry of state security fell down on the job."

When the doctors were arrested, it was charged they prescribed faulty medical treatment and caused the deaths of Andrei Zhdanov, a leading political bureau member, who died in 1948 at 52, and Alexander Shcherbakov, who died in 1945 at 44.

It was announced Saturday that the doctors had been falsely accused and that persons responsible for "incorrect conduct of the investigations" had been brought to justice.

They also slandered without cause a prominent Jewish actor, the late Lev Mikhoels, Pravda said. Mikhoels, a leader of Russian Jewry until his death in 1948, had been accused of being an agent between the doctors and international Jewish groups with which the original charges said the doctors plotted.

The paper said a commission of medical experts "let it be influenced" by the fake evidence and "supported slanderous accusations against a number of outstanding leaders of medicine."

COLD, COLORLESS, SHREWD

South Africa's Malan Faces
Big Test at Poles April 15

BY W. ALLISON FORREST
CAPETOWN, South Africa (NEA)—Dr. Daniel Francois Malan is a poker-faced Afrikaner who likes to take off his shoes and socks and wade in the sea and refuses to go to race meetings.

But race headaches of another sort—white vs. black—are Malan's battle-cry in his fight for re-election of his South African Nationalist Party on April 15.

If his party wins, he will consider it a clear-cut mandate to declare the "sovereignty of parliament" and step up his war for complete white supremacy.

The rarely-smiling Prime Minister, nearing 79, has not backed down on the racial issue that has piled up national tension since last spring, when the Nationalists made separate voting lists for the colored. When the courts called the law unconstitutional, Malan rejected the decision. He created a High Court of Parliament, making parliament superior to the courts.

JAP FISHERMEN, HELD FOR YEAR, FREED BY REDS

TOKYO (AP)—Russia and Red China have returned without notice 171 Japanese fishermen and five fishing boats captured by Communist vessels last year.

Three ships, carrying 147 fishermen, arrived today at Nagasaki, North Kyushu, from Shanghai. Two other vessels, with 24 fishermen aboard, arrived Sunday at Wakkana, northernmost Japanese port from Soviet-held Sakhalin Island, north of Japan.

Neither Russia nor Red China notified Japan beforehand of the decision to release the fishermen.

The U.N. offer was in a nine-point program put before the Reds at today's 48-minute opening talk on the exchange of ailing prisoners, when Allied leaders, praised the Reds as being "very objective."

The U.N. negotiators said the first Allied-Communist talks in six months made "distinct progress." Both sides agreed to meet again at 11 a.m. Tuesday (6 p.m. EST Monday).

The talks may lead to resumption of armistice negotiations.

Chief U.N. negotiator Read Admiral John Daniel said he told the Reds today:

"We are prepared to repatriate directly through Panmunjom all sick and wounded captured personnel specified in article 109 of the Geneva convention. We have not divided them into categories. We have total figures by nationalities which we are prepared to exchange."

NINE POINTS
The nine points submitted by the Allies are:

1. Panmunjom would be the site of the exchange.
2. Exchange would begin seven days after agreement is signed.
3. The U.N. would repatriate 500 prisoners per day. The Communist figure was left blank.
4. Twenty-five prisoners would be brought to the exchange point at one time with each group accompanied by a roster with names, rank and nationality.

5. Each side would provide immunity from attack to 10 vehicle convoys bringing the POWs to Kaesong and Munsan with proper identification.
6. The description, time and other details of the convoys would be exchanged 24 hours before movement.
7. There would be free access to the neutral site with each delegation not to exceed 300 persons at one time including the "captured personnel" under control of each side.
8. Liaison officers will meet to arrange administrative details.
9. Provision for terminating date of the agreement.

The Communists raised the possibility of sending some categories of sick and wounded prisoners to neutral countries for the duration of hostilities.

MAY BROADEN TERMS
The Red's move indicated they may intend in this way to broaden the terms of the exchange of seriously sick and wounded so as to include thousands of prisoners who do not meet the rigid requirements of "seriously sick and wounded" under the Geneva Convention.

Chief Communist negotiator Maj.-Gen. Lee Sang Cho announced in the meeting that the Reds are ready to repatriate all sick and wounded prisoners of war "listed to be directly repatriated or accommodated in a neutral country."

He cited articles 109 and 110 of the Geneva Convention. Article 109 calls for immediate repatriation, on a voluntary basis of seriously sick and wounded prisoners.

Article 110, which the Communists mentioned today for the first time, calls for the release to the custody of neutral nations those prisoners whose physical or mental condition would be improved by release from a prisoner of war camp.

PUNCTUATION?
.45 Backs
Demand
For Service

VANCOUVER (CP)—Maybe he was just trying to keep the old Wild West traditions alive: A thirsty customer, impatient for his two beers, fired two shots into the ceiling of a hotel bar here Saturday.

Police later arrested James H. Doige, and charged him with illegal possession of firearms. They said he was carrying a .45 revolver with three live and two spent shells and a small un-loaded automatic in his trouser leg.
